New Year Celebrations Ease Tensions

Millions Laugh, Sing

NEW YORK (AP) — A war-torn world unwound some of its tensions in New Year celebrations, clinking glasses against a background of gunfire in Viet Nam.

As millions gathered in laughter and song, other millions looked prayerfully toward 1966 as a possible harbinger of peace.

The rollicking music of night club bands and football marching sons at bowl game parades mingled with the solemn tones of church services and warnings by religious leaders against excessive celebration.

The leaders of the nations, and their people, followed the news reports of President Johnson's efforts for a peaceful settlement of the Viet Nam war.

The White House said President and Mrs. Johnson had no special plans for New Year's.

In New York City, incoming Mayor John V. Lindsay planned to see the new year in at the negotiating table, bargaining to avert a transit strike that could cripple the city.

But the threatened strike wasn't to start until 5 a.m. Saturday and New York's Times Square was still the center stage of the nation's celebration. There was a new clock this year, ticking off dying 1965 in tenths of seconds.

As the tenths of seconds counted down to midnight in Times Square, it was already 1966 in Japan and temple bells tolled out the Year of the Snake and welcomed the Year of the Horse.

Japanese clad in furs against a sudden cold spell crowded shrines as the bells rang 108 times. According to ancient Japanese belief, each stroke of the bell atones for one of the 108 sins each human being has committed during the year.

For the world's Roman Catholics, New Year's Day also began a jubilee proclaimed by Pope Paul VI to mark the conclusion of the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

During a jubilee, the Church grants a full indulgence—taking away all the earthly punishment due for past sins—for participation in special services or for certain private acts of prayer.

Rabbis reminded Jews that this New Year's Eve is also their Sabbath, starting at sundown.

In Detroit, three rabbis said "parties and celebrations can be neither in keeping with the spirit nor respectful of the appropriate observance of the Sabbath."

Reservoir Waters Surge Down River That's Usually Dry

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Water stored from record snow and rainstorms surged into the Phoenix area Friday in a man-made flood that chased several thousand people from their homes.

Officials said they opened floodgates of brimful mountain reservoirs in an effort to prevent a later disaster.

As the water surged down the normally dry Salt River, flooding a half-mile wide, a young man in a car was trapped and feared drowned.

Major traffic jams were created on busy New Year's Eve highways and streets. This became even worse as the curious drove closer to look at the rampaging river.

Salt River Project spokesmen said the river flow had crested by noon in the Mesa-Tempe-Phoenix area of central Arizona and should remain constant at 75,000 cubic feet per second until at least midnight.

Another Good Year Seen By Business And Industry

East Liverpool district business and industry rang down the curtain Friday night on one of the most generally prosperous years since the early 1950's and looked forward today to a continuation of high levels in 1966.

Retail and service trades in East Liverpool chalked up 1965 as a good year, thanks primarily to high levels of employment and earnings in the district's two basic industries — ceramics and steel. With industry looking forward to a busy 1966, retailers can do the same.

DESPITE AN admittedly spotty fourth quarter, Crucible Steel Co.'s Midland Works generally maintained high levels in 1965 and looks forward to 1966 with optimism. Weirton Steel Co. in Weirton also anticipates continuing prosperity for itself and its employes.

The East Liverpool area's ceramic plants also experienced a comparatively good year in 1965, as evidenced by the growth in payrolls and employment, and they anticipate operations will continue at present levels in early 1966.

Guy F. McCracken, works manager at Crucible, said in a year-end appraisal that the steel firm chalked up "a year of good production" in 1965 despite the slackening in the final three months of the year.

He said the outlook for 1966 "is favorable and should be more stable than 1965." The new year finds Crucible in the third year of its $75 million capital improvement program, with a major share of the work being done at the Midland plant.

The outlook for Weirton Steel in 1966 is "good," according to C. G. Tournay, president of the Weirton Steel Division of National Steel Corp.

THE FORECASTS of the district industrialists match those issued by their counterparts all over the nation. Almost without exception, retailers and industrial executives throughout the U.S. commented that 1965 was a banner year and that 1966 will be just as good.

Virtually all East Liverpool area business and industrial indices attained levels in the first 11 months of 1965 that were well ahead of the points at which they stood at the same time in 1964, according to a Chamber of Commerce survey.

Ten of the indices showed gain, while two were down and one was unchanged. The Chamber's statistics on all of 1965 will not be issued until mid-January, after figures have been gathered from various agencies.

THE COMPARISON of the first 11 months of 1965 with the corresponding period of 1964 showed gains in bank clearings and debits, industrial payrolls and employment, both inbound

Massing As If For Attack On Quang Ngai New Year's

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Allied forces battled near the central coast Friday against Viet Cong who overran a district headquarters and massed as if for New Year's drive on the city of Quang Ngai, a gateway to the South China Sea.

Stormy weather hampered American fliers and artillerymen striking in support of Vietnamese ground troops. Communist fire downed a U.S. plane and its pilot presumably died in the crash.

Combatants struggled in wind-lashed rain while around the world American diplomats pressed a peace offensive aimed at inducing the Communists to agree to negotiations.

The suspension of U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam was in its eighth day, still apparently ignored by Hanoi's regime.

High military and diplomatic officials in Saigon reviewed developments of the last 12 months and predicted that, if the war persists, military activity will be intensified further in 1966.

In the same vein was a message bull-horned to Viet Cong in the central highlands by a psychological warfare plane of the U.S. 1st cavalry, Airmobile, Division.

"This is the year of the Horse. We are the Horse. The Horse will seek you out and destroy you."

Added to the U.S. Air Force buildup were 11 high-flying RF4C reconnaissance planes, scouting versions of the Phantom fighter-bombers. Speedsters that can do 1,600 miles an hour, they arrived in Saigon to join the new 16th Reconnaissance Squadron, commanded by Lt. Col. Morgan R. Beamer of Salinas, Calif.

Breakdown Given On City Tax Use

The Council finance committee today issued a breakdown accounting for expenditure of $324,200 in city income tax revenue during 1965.

The report was issued by Robert W. Sample, as chairman of the committee, which also is comprised of Councilmen Norman Bucher and Donald Hancock. Hancock has served on the committee since late fall, replacing Floyd Murray, who advanced to the presidency.

THE REPORT pointed out that the largest single allocation was $160,000 transferred to the general fund to make up the difference between income anticipated from all sources — notably real estate taxes — and the amount required for operations in 1965.

The second-largest item was $32,000 utilized to meet the additional cost of wage and salary increases granted to most municipal employes for the last seven months of the year. The boosts will continue in 1966.

In addition to income tax receipts in 1965, the total includes funds carried forward in a balance from 1964, Sample explained. He promised at Council's last 1965 session Tuesday night that a detailed breakdown would be issued before the end of the year to explain to the public how the income tax money was spent.

HERE ARE the other major items:

Two new police cars, $5,000; City Hall renovation, inside and outside, $10,000; new grader for the street department, $13,000; two new four - wheel drive trucks for the street department, designed especially for ice and snow control, $10,000.

Fire department emergency truck (appropriated but not yet expended), $8,000; city's share of Lisbon St. widening and resurfacing, contemplated for 1966, $20,000; retirement of part of debt for city's share of St. Clair Ave.'s $850,000 rebuilding, $8,800; city's share of Pennsylvania Ave. blacktop resurfacing, $8,300.

Thompson Park, for swimming pool deficit and miscellaneous expenses, $2,000; Gardendale Ave. Hill blacktop surfacing, $500; tractor and mower for cutting weeds, $3,000; traffic signs, $1,000; oil for dust control on unsurfaced streets, $5,-

Light Showers Slated Today, Again Sunday

Scattered light showers are expected this morning to usher in 1966 and more occasional rain is due Sunday, the weatherman said.

Friday's temperature had a near spring - like quality, sending the mercury up to the low 60's throughout the area.

France Won't Get Involved, DeGaulle Says

Hears Goldberg On U.S. Peace Drive; NATO Given Aims

PARIS (AP) — Special presidential envoy Arthur J. Goldberg on Friday presented the aims of the U.S. peace offensive in Viet Nam to President Charles de Gaulle and the Atlantic alliance.

Fresh from a similar mission to Pope Paul VI, Goldberg told De Gaulle the war can be settled only at the conference table, and the talks must be without preconditions.

Shortly before meeting Goldberg, De Gaulle recorded for New Year's radio-television broadcast a speech saying France will stay out of the conflict.

"We ourselves are engaged nowhere," De Gaulle said, "and we will do what is necessary not to be integrated in any war which is not our own."

W. Averell Harriman, also a special envoy in the U.S. peace offensive launched by President Johnson, planned to talk Saturday with President Tito of Yugoslavia before heading on to India for a meeting with Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri.

Harriman was prevented from conferring with Tito during the day when fog kept his plane from landing in northern Yugoslavia where Tito is at Brdo Castle. Harriman flew to Yugoslavia from Warsaw, Poland, where he had talked with Polish officials.

Some Taxes Drop, Social Security Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maybe cabaret revelers didn't notice it this New Year's Eve, but the tax bite on them was not so deep.

However, the relief was slight compared to a $5.1-billion increase in Social Security taxes which starts going into effect at midnight.

The federal cabaret tax was abolished at noon Friday, ahead of the traditional whoopee-making. So also was the general admissions tax on theaters, movies, racetracks and athletic events.

Americans can take comfort in 1966 in these other changes:

The levy on telephone calls drops from 10 per cent to 3; passenger auto manufacturers from 7 to 6; and various other taxes are repealed, including excises on club dues, matches, auto parts and light bulbs.

These excise tax cuts, voted by Congress last year, amount to a savings estimated at $1.7 billion for American spenders in 1966.

This amounts to about a third of the Social Security tax increases.

Increased payroll deductions are effective with the first check for 1966. Over the years the money missing from the pay envelope could total as much as $103 more.

Suppose, for example, you earn $6,600 a year. Last year your Social Security tax was based on $4,800 and you paid $3.34 a week, which was about $174 for the whole year.

This year you will be taxed at a higher rate on the whole $6,600. You will pay $5.33 a week or $277 for the year.

Highway Toll Hit Record For County During 1965

Death took the greatest traffic toll in history on Columbiana County highways during 1965.

Thirty-nine men, women and children lost their lives during the year, far above the 29 killed in 1964, and breaking the record of 35 set in 1949 and 1952.

Two mishaps took nine lives — one on Route 14 near Unity in which five Beaver Falls residents were killed in July, the other on Route 7 near Brookside in which four city residents died.

There were four traffic deaths in East Liverpool, and one each in Wellsville and Salem.

As usual, most of the road deaths occurred in the northern part of the county, where the more level roads and gentler curves lead drivers to high speed.

Of those killed, 16 were drivers, 15 passengers, seven pedestrians and one a bicyclist.

Besides the four killed at Brookside, only two others lost their lives on dangerous and busy Route 7. Four died on Route 30, another heavily-traveled artery in the county.

A breakdown of the deaths by months shows: January 2, February 1, March 0, April 4, May 5, June 2, July 10, August 2, September 5, October 3, November 3 and December 2.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon during 1965 had investigated 1,362 accidents up through early Friday night, an increase over the some 1,100 during 1964.

Johnson Raps Steel Boost By Bethlehem

NEW YORK (AP) — Bethlehem Steel Corp. announced Friday a $5-a-ton increase in some of its products and drew quick criticism from President Johnson and his chief economic adviser.

The Texas White House released Friday night a statement from Johnson saying "this is certainly no time for unwarranted price increases which can lead to inflation."

He linked the action with the Viet Nam war and urged Bethlehem officials to confer immediately with his economic advisers.

Authorities Search For Fugitive Pair In Area To West

A police hunt for two men sought in connection with an armed robbery of a Carroll County fruit market and the kidnaping of two officers at Minerva continued late Friday night in western Columbiana County and Carroll County.

Charles Howard, 26, and Harold Pitts, 19, both of the Hanoverton District, were believed to be hiding somewhere in the area, armed with a riot gun and revolver taken from the officers, along with two automatic pistols of their own.

Leslie Pitts, 18, a brother of Harold Pitts, was being held at the Carroll County Jail in connection with the holdup and abduction by the trio late Thursday night.

The three men reportedly obtained over $150 from the fruit market near Malvern. They were halted near Minerva by Pa-

Leslie Pitts, 18, a brother of Harold Pitts, was being held at the Carroll County Jail in connection with the holdup and abduction by the trio late Thursday night.

The three men reportedly obtained over $150 from the fruit market near Malvern. They were halted near Minerva by Pa-

NEW YORK (AP) — Bethlehem Steel Corp. announced Friday a $5-a-ton increase in some of its products and drew quick criticism from President Johnson and his chief economic adviser.

The Texas White House released Friday night a statement from Johnson saying "this is certainly no time for unwarranted price increases which can lead to inflation."

He linked the action with the Viet Nam war and urged Bethlehem officials to confer immediately with his economic advisers.

Women Fined In Club Action

WEIRTON — Two Hancock County women, Mrs. Josephine Zagula, 45, of New Cumberland and Elva J. Green, 30, of Chester, were fined here by Squire Thomas Bellanco after changing pleas of "not guilty" to "no contest" Wednesday on charges of possessioon of gambling devices and liquor and the sale of alcoholic liquor.

Mrs. Zagula, licensee of the Club Daily Double on State Route 66, was fined a total of $150 and costs on the illegal possession charges and Miss Green, a waitress in the club, $50 and costs on the illegal sale charge.

The two originally were arrested Sept. 8 by West Virginia state police, posting $500 properyt bonds each at that time for a hearing before Squire Bellanco on Sept. 11. On that date their cases were continued until Sept. 17.

On Sept. 17, under the not guilty plea, they were bound over to the January term of the grand jury. After changing their plea this week, the fines by Squire Bellanco followed.

8,348 Qualified

396 Removed From Voting Rolls

East Liverpool is beginning 1966 with 8,348 qualified voters after the County Election Board removed the names of 396 in its annual year-end check for failure to vote at least once in the preceding two years.

A total of 431 in all was cut from the list. In addition to those disqualified for failure to vote at a primary, general or special election within the last two years, the board removed the names of 35 whose deaths were reported by the Health Board's registrar of vital statistics. The city had 8,779 voters qualified for the Nov. 2 general election.

State law makes the annual check mandatory in all subdivisions where voter registration is required. East Liverpool is the only community in Columbiana County where voters must register.

POSTCARD notices were mailed Friday to all the disqualified electors advising them of the board's action. The form includes an addressed, postage-paid card which the voters may use to reinstate their registration by mail.

The form allows a voter to become qualified again without the necessity for a trip to the board's downtown office. The elector need only enter his name and address and affix his signature. Until the law was changed a few years ago by the state legislature, electors could reinstate their names only by a personal visit to the board's office.

The notice warns that the mail reinstatement runs out in 30 days — on Feb. 2. After that time, a voter will be required to visit the office in person to have his name entered on the list again.

The drop to 8,348 is another step in a gradual downward trend in the number of city voters that began shortly after the end of World War II. The city's all-time peak registration was 12,642 for the November 1940 Presidential election.

Since 1945, there has been a continual, gradual decline, blamed on migration to new residential districts immediately outside the city in Liverpool and St. Clair Townships.

THE CHECK eliminated 106 voters' names in the First Ward, leaving a new total of 1,948; 115 in the Second Ward, leaving 2,840; 73 in the Third Ward, for a new total of 1,421, and 102 in the Fourth Ward, leaving 205.

Here's a precinct breakdown on the number eliminated and the new totals:

First Ward: A, 11 cancelled, 290 remaining; B, 21 and 343; C, 14 and 167; D, 15 and 345; E, 20 and 306; F, 9 and 159; G, 11 and 225, and H, 5 and 113.

Second Ward: A, 17 and 253; B, 29 and 360; C, 11 and 301; D, 14 and 292; E, 8 and 396; F, 6 and 253; G, 7 and 201; H, 9 and 249; I, 7 and 255 and J, 7 and 280.

Third Ward: A, 8 and 153; B, 18 and 211; C, 7 and 184; D, 9 and 286; E, 8 and 201; F, 6 and 128, and G, 17 and 258.

Fourth Ward: A, 17 and 201; B, 26 and 320; C, 6 and 153; D, 16 and 184; E, 6 and 297; F, 9 and 268; G, 4 and 200; H, 10 and 376, and I, 8 and 205.

New York Transit Strike Blocked By Injunction

NEW YORK (AP) — A temporary injunction asked by the city was granted Friday night against a possible paralyzing of New York's subway and bus employes.

The injunction was issued by Supreme Court Justice George Tilzer less than five hours before the midnight deadline that Transport Workers Union President Michael Quill had said would signal the end of talks, agreement or not. A strike has been called for 5 a.m.

There was no immediate reaction from the union but Quill has said repeatedly he would ignore any court orders against the strike. Thursday Quill publicly tore up court papers ordering him to show cause why his union should not be enjoined from striking.

The injunctions, obtained by the Transit Authority, were against officers of Quill's TWU and the Amalgamated Transit Union, both members of the AFL-CIO. The ATU represents 3,000 bus employes.

Court action came after Mayor-elect John V. Lindsay got talks going again, but made no announced progress.

A strike could paralyze this metropolis of 15 million people, and spoil Lindsay's plans for inaugural celebrations Saturday.

At one point, Quill came out of the closed-door session and told reporters he had called Lindsay a "pipsqueak" and a "juvenile."

"The mayor got kind of ruffled and we got kind of ruffled too," said Quill.

Quill said the Transit Authority still had made no offer in response to union demands submitted two months ago.

The authority says the union demands, which include reduction of the work week from 40 to 32 hours, and a 30 per cent pay boost, would cost $680 million over a two-year contract.

Authority negotiators had maintained there was no point in making a counteroffer until Quill reduced his demands.

Toll At Yule Period Pace

By The Associated Press

Ohio's new year holiday traffic fatality count was keeping abreast of the disastrous tally of the Christmas period Friday with at least 15 death victims of highway accidents.

In the Christmas period 50 persons died against 27 predicted deaths. For the New Year's holiday period, running the same distance from 6 p.m. Thursday to midnight Sunday, 27 deaths also have been predicted.

The Department of Highway Safety, with assists from civic groups serving free coffee on major highways in an effort to slow down traffic somewhat and encourage drivers to stop and rest—is making a strenuous effort to reduce the number of accidents. The highway patrol is out in force.

Pennsylvania Deputy Arrested For Theft

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Fred Y. Oren, 55, chief deputy in the Lancaster County prothonotary's office was arrested Friday on a charge of embezzling $3,500 in county funds. He was released later in $2,500 bail for a further hearing.

Oren had been dismissed by the county commissioners last August when he could not account for the $3,500. An audit ordered by the commissioners confirmed the money was missing.

Oren, a native of New Cumberland, was accused of taking the money from a special courthouse fund. A former school teacher and newspaper reporter, he held the county office since 1947.

Knife Attack Victim Seen In Fair Condition

Paul Carroll, 35, of Irondale, knifed by one of two unknown assailants at Hoppel's Corners Thursday night, was in "fair" condition late Friday night at City Hospital.

Carroll and a brother, Allen Carroll, 30, of Carroll Rd., were attacked by two men in a parked car on Carroll Rd. when the two brothers told the men in the car to drive away.

The older brother received severe lacerations of the upper left arm, a puncture wound of the abdomen and multiple cuts of the back. Columbiana County sheriff's deputies are investigating.

Phony Fortunes Turn Up In 3 States

WASHINGTON (AP) — Counterfeiters may be making more money and enjoying it less.

Phony fortunes in apparently abandoned bogus currency have turned up in recent days in California, Oklahoma and Texas.

A Secret Service official said today the finds were not related. But he said further details could not be made public because all the cases are under active investigation.

He did say that all of them appeared to be rather crude examples of the counterfeiter's art.

There has been no noticeable increase in counterfeiting activity over the past few months, the official said. However, the amount of illegal money manufactured has been running at a relatively high rate for several years.

"It is not unusual to find counterfeit money which has been dumped," the official said. "However, it is unusual for three or four batches to turn up in a short period of time.

"We find that a counterfeiter sometimes makes a large number of bills and then dumps them out of fear or panic when he discovers they cannot be passed easily. Policemen sometimes find counterfeit money left in the woods or in a building and usually there is little or no publicity in such cases."

Here are some samples that did get publicity:

In Fairfield, Calif., Wednesday, the wind wafted a stream of big bills — $50s and $20s — past a construction project. Workers gave chase and found a shoebox stuffed with $40,000, counterfeit.

Strong winds scattered $20 bills across the street in Oklahoma City Tuesday. An off-duty policeman, Frank Ginter, spotted them, and found sacks of bills abandoned behind a concrete post. More fake money was stuffed in a storm drain.

The cache filled the trunk of Gunter's automobile. Secret Service agent Pat Steele said the counterfeit bills totaled $467,200.

Secret Service agents fished two suitcases of bills from the Trinity River at Irving, Tex., Dec. 12. Both had come open, and there was a stream of money swirling down the river. The agents said they also recovered the metal plates used to print the money.

Agent Forrest Sorrells said about $100,000 worth was taken out of the river, and an estimated $400,000 to $500,000 more apparently was swept away by the current.

Two golfers called the Secret Service after they spotted the bills.

Three persons have been arrested, including two men police said tossed the phony bills into the river.

Although the counterfeiting problem is a continuing one, the Secret Service does not regard it as alarming. The $3.3 million in phony currency turned up in the 12-month period which ended June 30 is a lot of money. But it would have to be 100 times as great to equal one per cent of the amount of legal currency.

The Secret Service seized 75 per cent of the counterfeit currency before it was circulated.

The amount of counterfeit currency known to have been printed in that 12-month period was somewhat lower than the previous year.

There were 723 arrests for counterfeiting offenses during the last fiscal year. The arrest figure has varied very little over the past several years.

But the problems of combatting counterfeiting have grown in recent years with the widespread use of photographic printing process.

Romney In Strong Position For His Next Elective Test

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A soaring state economy and legislation passed, ironically, by Democrats, puts Gov. George Romney of Michigan in a strong position 10 months ahead of his next elective test.

Though Romney's 384,000-vote re-election victory last year put him into prominent mention for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, some thought a state legislature newly controlled by Democrats could wreck his national image.

But the governor, backing much of the year's record torrent of legislation, has sold himself well enough that no Democratic candidate has emerged yet for the 1966 gubernatorial race.

Many ranking Democrats say privately that their 1966 candidate probably will be sacrificial, just hoping to avert a Romney landslide which could balloon his presidential chances and win Republicans the state senate.

Romney even laughs that what he calls "the Democratic candidates' dilemma" has caused him to delay his own announcement of whether he'll run for a third term or seek the U.S. Senate seat now held by Democrat Patrick McNamara.

Democrats admit Romney's image has profited from the year's legislation. But they say he's taking more credit than he's entitled to.

Senate majority leader Raymond Dzendzel, a Detroit Democrat, asks "how the governor can take credit for these programs when we've been introducing them for 30 years?"

Broadened school and university aid, senior citizen property tax relief and greatly expanded benefit for unemployed and injured workers were among major measures passed. Romney says 70 to 75 per cent of his program won approval.

"He didn't get them when he had a Republican legislature but this year he had to go along," said Dzendzel.

The Johnson landslide and reapportionment helped Democrats win control of the legislature for the first time in three decades.

They were, however, four votes shy of being able to override vetoes without Republican help.

Romney said this week that a hold-the-line budget for 1966-67 could just about be financed without tapping the surplus.

Easton Mayor Heads Pennsylvania Group

HARRISBURG (AP) — Dr. George S. Smith, mayor of Easton, takes over Saturday as the president of the Pennsylvania League of Cities.

Dr. Smith will succeed Albert L. Hydeman Jr., who resigned when his seat on the York city council expired at the end of 1965.

Elected mayor in 1959 and re-elected in 1963, Dr. Smith has been a member of the league's board of directors for the past three years and became vice president earlier this year.

$40,000 Damage Set In Warehouse Fire

HONEYBROOK, Pa. (AP)—A three-story frame warehouse owned by Jacob P. Kruger was destroyed by fire Friday in this Chester County community, police reported.

Kruger estimated damage at $40,000.

Fire officials believe that the blaze was caused by a truck backfire which ignited some poultry boxes inside the warehouse. Kruger had backed the truck into the warehouse to unload.

Westinghouse Firm, UEW Reach Accord

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Westinghouse Air Brake Co. and the United Electrical Workers reached agreement Friday night averting a midnight strike by 5,000 workers at the company's plant in nearby Swissvale.

A spokesman for Local 610 said the agreement was "tentative" and declined to give details. He said the local membership would vote on the agreement Monday night.

Negotiations reportedly had been deadlocked over pensions, wages and a reopening clause in the new contract.

Women Fined In Club Action

WEIRTON — Two Hancock County women, Mrs. Josephine Zagula, 45, of New Cumberland and Elva J. Green, 30, of Chester, were fined here by Squire Thomas Bellanco after changing pleas of "not guilty" to "no contest" Wednesday on charges of possessioon of gambling devices and liquor and the sale of alcoholic liquor.

Mrs. Zagula, licensee of the club Daily Double on State Route 66, was fined a total of $150 and costs on the illegal possession charges and Miss Green, a waitress in the club, $50 and costs on the illegal sale charge.

The two originally were arrested Sept. 8 by West Virginia state police, posting $500 properyt bonds each at that time for a hearing before Squire Bellanco on Sept. 11. On that date their cases were continued until Sept. 17.

On Sept. 17, under the not guilty plea, they were bound over to the January term of the grand jury. After changing their plea this week, the fines by Squire Bellanco followed.

8,348 Qualified

396 Removed From Voting Rolls

East Liverpool is beginning 1966 with 8,348 qualified voters after the County Election Board removed the names of 396 in its annual year-end check for failure to vote at least once in the preceding two years.

A total of 431 in all was cut from the list. In addition to those disqualified for failure to vote at a primary, general or special election within the last two years, the board removed the names of 35 whose deaths were reported by the Health Board's registrar of vital statistics. The city had 8,779 voters qualified for the Nov. 2 general election.

State law makes the annual check mandatory in all subdivisions where voter registration is required. East Liverpool is the only community in Columbiana County where voters must register.

POSTCARD notices were mailed Friday to all the disqualified electors advising them of the board's action. The form includes an addressed, postage-paid card which the voters may use to reinstate their registration by mail.

The form allows a voter to become qualified again without the necessity for a trip to the board's downtown office. The elector need only enter his name and address and affix his signature. Until the law was changed a few years ago by the state legislature, electors could reinstate their names only by a personal visit to the board's office.

The notice warns that the mail reinstatement runs out in 30 days — on Feb. 2. After that time, a voter will be required to visit the office in person to have his name entered on the list again.

The drop to 8,348 is another step in a gradual downward trend in the number of city voters that began shortly after the end of World War II. The city's all-time peak registration was 12,642 for the November 1940 Presidential election.

Since 1945, there has been a continual, gradual decline, blamed on migration to new residential districts immediately outside the city in Liverpool and St. Clair Townships.

THE CHECK eliminated 106 voters' names in the First Ward, leaving a new total of 1,948; 115 in the Second Ward, leaving 2,840; 73 in the Third Ward, for a new total of 1,421, and 102 in the Fourth Ward, leaving 265.

Here's a precinct breakdown on the number eliminated and the new totals:

First Ward: A, 11 cancelled, 290 remaining; B, 21 and 343; C, 14 and 167; D, 15 and 345; E, 20 and 306; F, 9 and 159; G, 11 and 225, and H, 5 and 113.

Second Ward: A, 17 and 253; B, 29 and 360; C, 11 and 301; D, 14 and 292; E, 8 and 396; F, 6 and 253; G, 7 and 201; H, 9 and 249; I, 7 and 255 and J, 7 and 289.

Third Ward: A, 8 and 153; B, 18 and 211; C, 7 and 184; D, 9 and 286; E, 8 and 201; F, 6 and 128, and G, 17 and 258.

Fourth Ward: A, 17 and 201; B, 26 and 326; C, 6 and 153; D, 16 and 184; E, 6 and 297; F, 9 and 268; G, 4 and 200; H, 10 and 376, and I, 8 and 265.

New York Transit Strike Blocked By Injunction

NEW YORK (AP) — A temporary injunction asked by the city was granted Friday night against a possible paralyzing of New York's subway and bus employes.

The injunction was issued by Supreme Court Justice George Tilzer less than five hours before the midnight deadline that Transport Workers Union President Michael Quill had said would signal the end of talks, agreement or not. A strike has been called for 5 a.m.

There was no immediate reaction from the union but Quill has said repeatedly he would ignore any court orders against the strike. Thursday Quill publicly tore up court papers ordering him to show cause why his union should not be enjoined from striking.

The injunctions, obtained by the Transit Authority, were against officers of Quill's TWU and the Amalgamated Transit Union, both members of the AFL-CIO. The ATU represents 3,000 bus employes.

Court action came after Mayor-elect John V. Lindsay got talks going again, but made no announced progress.

A strike could paralyze this metropolis of 15 million people, and spoil Lindsay's plans for inaugural celebrations Saturday.

At one point, Quill came out of the closed-door session and told reporters he had called Lindsay a "pipsqueak" and a "juvenile."

"The mayor got kind of ruffled and we got kind of ruffled too," said Quill.

Quill said the Transit Authority still had made no offer in response to union demands submitted two months ago.

The authority says the union demands, which include reduction of the work week from 40 to 32 hours, and a 30 per cent pay boost, would cost $680 million over a two-year contract.

Authority negotiators had maintained there was no point in making a counteroffer until Quill reduced his demands.

The first scheduled passenger air service across a major ocean was started in 1934 when a Pan American World Airways flying boat made the trip from San Francisco to Manila in 59 hours and 48 minutes. Stops were made at Honolulu, Midway, Wake Island and Guam.

Knife Attack Victim Seen In Fair Condition

Paul Carroll, 35, of Irondale, knifed by one of two unknown assailants at Hoppel's Corners Thursday night, was in "fair" condition late Friday night at City Hospital.

Carroll and a brother, Allen Carroll, 30, of Carroll Rd., were attacked by two men in a parked car on Carroll Rd. when the two brothers told the men in the car to drive away.

The older brother received severe lacerations of the upper left arm, a puncture wound of the abdomen and multiple cuts of the back. Columbiana County sheriff's deputies are investigating.

Phony Fortunes Turn Up In 3 States

WASHINGTON (AP) — Counterfeiters may be making more money and enjoying it less.

Phony fortunes in apparently abandoned bogus currency have turned up in recent days in California, Oklahoma and Texas.

A Secret Service official said today the finds were not related. But he said further details could not be made public because all the cases are under active investigation.

He did say that all of them appeared to be rather crude examples of the counterfeiter's art.

There has been no noticeable increase in counterfeiting activity over the past few months, the official said. However, the amount of illegal money manufactured has been running at a relatively high rate for several years.

"It is not unusual to find counterfeit money which has been dumped," the official said. "However, it is unusual for three or four batches to turn up in a short period of time.

"We find that a counterfeiter sometimes makes a large number of bills and then dumps them out of fear or panic when he discovers they cannot be passed easily. Policemen sometimes find counterfeit money left in the woods or in a building and usually there is little or no publicity in such cases."

Here are some samples that did get publicity:

In Fairfield, Calif., Wednesday, the wind wafted a stream of big bills — $50s and $20s — past a construction project. Workers gave chase and found a shoebox stuffed with $40,000 counterfeit.

Strong winds scattered $20 bills across the street in Oklahoma City Tuesday. An off-duty policeman, Frank Ginter, spotted them, and found sacks of bills abandoned behind a concrete post. More fake money was stuffed in a storm drain.

The cache filled the trunk of Gunter's automobile. Secret Service agent Pat Steele said the counterfeit bills totaled $467,200.

Secret Service agents fished two suitcases of bills from the Trinity River at Irving, Tex., Dec. 12. Both had come open, and there was a stream of money swirling down the river. The agents said they also recovered the metal plates used to print the money.

Agent Forrest Sorrells said about $100,000 worth was taken out of the river, and an estimated $400,000 to $500,000 more apparently was swept away by the current.

Two golfers called the Secret Service after they spotted the bills.

Three persons have been arrested, including two men police said tossed the phony bills into the river.

Although the counterfeiting problem is a continuing one, the Secret Service does not regard it as alarming. The $3.3 million in phony currency turned up in the 12-month period which ended June 30 is a lot of money. But it would have to be 100 times as great to equal one per cent of the amount of legal currency.

The Secret Service seized 75 per cent of the counterfeit currency before it was circulated.

The amount of counterfeit currency known to have been printed in that 12-month period was somewhat lower than the previous year.

There were 723 arrests for counterfeiting offenses during the last fiscal year. The arrest figure has varied very little over the past several years.

But the problems of combatting counterfeiting have grown in recent years with the widespread use of photographic printing process.

Romney In Strong Position For His Next Elective Test

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A soaring state economy and legislation passed, ironically, by Democrats, puts Gov. George Romney of Michigan in a strong position 10 months ahead of his next elective test.

Though Romney's 384,000-vote re-election victory last year put him into prominent mention for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, some thought a state legislature newly controlled by Democrats could wreck his national image.

But the governor, backing much of the year's record torrent of legislation, has sold himself well enough that no Democratic candidate has emerged yet for the 1966 gubernatorial race.

Many ranking Democrats say privately that their 1966 candidate probably will be sacrificial, just hoping to avert a Romney landslide which could balloon his presidential chances and win Republicans the state senate.

Romney even laughs that what he calls "the Democratic candidates' dilemma" has caused him to delay his own announcement of whether he'll run for a third term or seek the U.S. Senate seat now held by Democrat Patrick McNamara.

Democrats admit Romney's image has profited from the year's legislation. But they say he's taking more credit than he's entitled to.

Senate majority leader Raymond Dzendzel, a Detroit Democrat, asks "how the governor can take credit for these programs when we've been introducing them for 30 years?"

Broadened school and university aid, senior citizen property tax relief and greatly expanded benefit for unemployed and injured workers were among major measures passed. Romney says 70 to 75 per cent of his program won approval.

"He didn't get them when he had a Republican legislature but this year he had to go along," said Dzendzel.

The Johnson landslide and reapportionment helped Democrats win control of the legislature for the first time in three decades.

They were, however, four votes shy of being able to override vetoes without Republican help.

Romney said this week that a hold-the-line budget for 1966-67 could just about be financed without tapping the surplus.

$40,000 Damage Set In Warehouse Fire

HONEYBROOK, Pa. (AP)—A three-story frame warehouse owned by Jacob P. Kruger was destroyed by fire Friday in this Chester County community, police reported.

Kruger estimated damage at $40,000.

Fire officials believe that the blaze was caused by a truck backfire which ignited some poultry boxes inside the warehouse. Kruger had backed the truck into the warehouse to unload.

Westinghouse Firm, UEW Reach Accord

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Westinghouse Air Brake Co. and the United Electrical Workers reached agreement Friday night averting a midnight strike by 5,000 workers at the company's plant in nearby Swissvale.

A spokesman for Local 610 said the agreement was "tentative" and declined to give details. He said the local membership would vote on the agreement Monday night.

Negotiations reportedly had been deadlocked over pensions, wages and a reopening clause in the new contract.

Steel Set 4 Records During 1965

By H.L. SCHWARTZ III

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The steel industry set a quartet of major records in 1965, including one for headaches.

Domestic consumption, shipments and production all topped records set in 1964 as the industry enjoyed its third good year in a row.

With a surprising boom in auto sales pacing a healthy economy, steelmen were looking ahead to 1966 for another fine year.

Despite the industry's performance in 1965, however, steelmen said profits failed to keep pace and imports poured into the country at a record clip.

Labor costs went up in May with the signing of an interim contract with the United Steelworkers of America and rose in September with agreement on a new 35-month contract.

Some smaller companies which balked at terms of the industry pact no sooner had their glowing third quarter reports in the mail to stockholders than their furnaces were cooled by long strikes.

On top of it all, the government kept a wary eye — some called it an iron grip — on prices.

Many steelmen felt that the significant — and most hopeful — development of the year lay in the negative factors.

Rising labor costs and record imports had served, they said, as a catalyst, hardening their resolve to complete as swiftly as possible the sweeping modernization started after the 116-day strike of 1959.

They expect this will put steel on a more competitive footing with other metals from home and abroad.

It will have other benefits, too. The industry knows that modernization will reduce manpower needs.

Statistically, 1965 looked like this:

Production reached 128 million tons, breaking the record of 127.1 million set in 1964. Shipments were 89.5 million tons as compared with the record 84.9 million the previous year.

Domestic consumption topped 90.5 million tons. The previous all-time high was set in 1964 when 83.9 million tons were used.

There also was a new mark for weekly production. Some 2,806,000 tons were turned out the week of April 18 just a few days before federal mediators stepped in to avert the first of two threatened nationwide strikes.

Foreign imports, meanwhile, outstripped 1964's record 6.5 million tons in the first eight months as domestic users unable to build their strike-hedge inventories fast enough were turned away from overtaxed American mills.

When all the figures are in, analysts say, more than 10 million tons of foreign steel will have entered the country in 1965.

Although some of the bigger producers reported record earnings for the first nine months of the year, lower profits were expected for the majority in fourth quarter as users worked off their inventories. Liquidation of inventories was expected to continue into the early months of 1966 with a real upsurge not predicted before spring.

During 1965, the steel industry spent more than $1.9 billion for capital improvements, also a record. U.S. Steel, the industry pacesetter, said it expected to spend almost that by itself over the next three years.

In years past, steel has tried to recoup the cost of labor contracts through price increases. Almost every contract since 1945 was followed by a boost.

But in 1965 the door appeared shut after repeated urgings from President Johnson that the industry maintain wage and price stability.

In October, the industry made price adjustments in some tinplate products and tinless steel, but held back from across the board increases.

Some observers regarded the tinplate adjustments as a test of government reaction and although there was none, sources said the rollback of aluminum price hikes in November doomed any hope that steel for firm increases during the year.

Communist detachments seized and held the district headquarters of Minh Long, 15 miles south of Quang Ngai, that had been garrisoned by about 250 Vietnamese troops. The Red fighters overran, burned and then vacated a government outpost in the Son Ha area about 15 miles west of Quang Ngai. They killed some of its platoon of defenders and dispersed the rest.

"Many, many Viet Cong" were in evidence in both sectors, said a U.S. spotter plane pilot who braved near-monsoon weather and Communist ground fire for a low-level inspection.

North of Minh Long, he said, "a fantastic number of enemy troops are in real deep ditches, shoulder to shoulder, with camouflage over their heads."

The government has budgeted $1.7 billion for the 1966 Food for Peace program to make surplus agricultural products available to hungry persons throughout the world.

Annual Mummers Parade Waited In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It wouldn't be New Year's Day without the sound of "Oh Dem Golden Slippers" and the sight of comics in outlandish costumes prancing up Broad Street.

So, with a prediction of mild, cloudy weather, the disciples of King Momus are prepared to usher in 1966 with the usual dazzling array of color and finery known as the Mummers Parade.

It could be the most colorful Mummers Parade since the hijinx started in 1901.

There will be 30 clubs represented in the 4½ mile line of march, competing for $66,500 in cash prizes for best in class. The comic division starts the strutting about 8 a.m. EST.

They will be followed by four fancy clubs, members bedecked in satin and sequin costumes, and then 21 string bands providing the catchy music.

Police estimate more than a million persons will line the sidewalks and crowd windows of buildings along the parade route for the seven-hour extravaganza.

Many, perhaps still feeling the aftermath of too much New Year's Eve celebrating, will turn glazed eyes on television screens to see the annual parade.

The police department said it will have 1,100 uniformed officers on duty in the parade area to handle traffic control and take care of the myriad of problems that usually pop up during the parade.

For the Mummers, Saturday's march marks the culmination of many months of preparation and many thousands of dollars spent for the colorful costumes. Often the clubs have mobilized entire neighborhoods in their efforts.

The prize money doesn't come close to matching expenses which the clubs incur.

While there is a rain date set for the parade, in this case Jan. 8, a postponed parade somehow never is as good as the original. So, for these New Year's Mummers, all rests on Saturday. There have been only eight such postponements in the parade's history—one of these last year.

Newsmen Given Subpoenaes In Birns' Appeal

CLEVELAND (AP) — Attorneys for Cleveland rackets figure Alex (Shondor) Birns Friday issued subpoenas to ten newsmen and news managers to appear at a hearing appealing his conviction of witness tampering and bribery.

Birns' lawyers are charging that public announcement of an indictment in an income tax case by the federal grand jury prejudiced jurors in the bribery trial. Announcement of the federal indictment came Dec. 21, a day before Birns' bribery case went to a common pleas jury.

Jack G. Day, one of Birns' lawyers, said the subpoenas went to newsmen and managers of the city's three commercial television stations and two major newspapers. Also subpoened were news managers of the Associated Press and United Press International.

The appeal hearing will begin Monday in common pleas court. Birns was sentenced by Common Pleas Judge John L. Angelotta to serve concurrent sentences of one to ten and one to three years in Ohio Penitentiary. He is currently free on $5,000 bond awaiting the outcome of his appeal.

Georgetown Man, 20, Cited After Car Crash

Kenneth Rosak, 20, of Georgetown R.D. 1 was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control Friday by Hancock County sheriff's deputies following a traffic mishap on the Hardin Run Rd., near New Cumberland.

Rosak's westbound auto struck another driven by Thomas Lee Church, 47, of New Cumberland R.D. 1 in an attempt to pass, deputies said.

Deputies estimated $75 damage to the Church auto. The accident was timed about 3 p.m.

India is the most "barefooted country" in the world, with almost 82 per cent of the population habitually going without shoes.

Steel Set 4 Records During 1965

By H.L. SCHWARTZ III

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The steel industry set a quartet of major records in 1965, including one for headaches.

Domestic consumption, shipments and production all topped records set in 1964 as the industry enjoyed its third good year in a row.

With a surprising boom in auto sales pacing a healthy economy, steelmen were looking ahead to 1966 for another fine year.

Despite the industry's performance in 1965, however, steelmen said profits failed to keep pace and imports poured into the country at a record clip.

Labor costs went up in May with the signing of an interim contract with the United Steelworkers of America and rose in September with agreement on a new 35-month contract.

Some smaller companies which balked at terms of the industry pact no sooner had their glowing third quarter reports in the mail to stockholders than their furnaces were cooled by long strikes.

On top of it all, the government kept a wary eye — some called it an iron grip — on prices.

Many steelmen felt that the significant — and most hopeful — development of the year lay in the negative factors.

Rising labor costs and record imports had served, they said, as a catalyst, hardening their resolve to complete as swiftly as possible the sweeping modernization started after the 116-day strike of 1959.

They expect this will put steel on a more competitive footing with other metals from home and abroad.

It will have other benefits, too. The industry knows that modernization will reduce manpower needs.

Statistically, 1965 looked like this:

Production reached 128 million tons, breaking the record of 127.1 million set in 1964. Shipments were 89.5 million tons as compared with the record 84.9 million the previous year.

Domestic consumption topped 90.5 million tons. The previous all-time high was set in 1964 when 83.9 million tons were used.

There also was a new mark for weekly production. Some 2,806,000 tons were turned out the week of April 18 just a few days before federal mediators stepped in to avert the first of two threatened nationwide strikes.

Foreign imports, meanwhile, outstripped 1964's record 6.5 million tons in the first eight months as domestic users unable to build their strike-hedge inventories fast enough were turned away from overtaxed American mills.

When all the figures are in, analysts say, more than 10 million tons of foreign steel will have entered the country in 1965.

Although some of the bigger producers reported record earnings for the first nine months of the year, lower profits were expected for the majority in fourth quarter as users worked off their inventories. Liquidation of inventories was expected to continue into the early months of 1966 with a real upsurge not predicted before spring.

During 1965, the steel industry spent more than $1.9 billion for capital improvements, also a record. U.S. Steel, the industry pacesetter, said it expected to spend almost that by itself over the next three years.

In years past, steel has tried to recoup the cost of labor contracts through price increases. Almost every contract since 1945 was followed by a boost.

But in 1965 the door appeared shut after repeated urgings from President Johnson that the industry maintain wage and price stability.

In October, the industry made price adjustments in some tinplate products and tinless steel, but held back from across the board increases.

Some observers regarded the tinplate adjustments as a test of government reaction and although there was none, sources said the rollback of aluminum price hikes in November doomed any hope that steel for firm increases during the year.

Communist detachments seized and held the district headquarters of Minh Long, 15 miles south of Quang Ngai, that had been garrisoned by about 250 Vietnamese troops. The Red fighters overran, burned and then vacated a government outpost in the Son Ha area about 15 miles west of Quang Ngai. They killed some of its platoon of defenders and dispersed the rest.

"Many, many Viet Cong" were in evidence in both sectors, said a U.S. spotter plane pilot who braved near-monsoon weather and Communist ground fire for a low-level inspection.

North of Minh Long, he said, "a fantastic number of enemy troops are in real deep ditches, shoulder to shoulder, with camouflage over their heads."

The government has budgeted $1.7 billion for the 1966 Food for Peace program to make surplus agricultural products available to hungry persons throughout the world.

Annual Mummers Parade Waited In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It wouldn't be New Year's Day without the sound of "Oh Dem Golden Slippers" and the sight of comics in outlandish costumes prancing up Broad Street.

So, with a prediction of mild, cloudy weather, the disciples of King Momus are prepared to usher in 1966 with the usual dazzling array of color and finery known as the Mummers Parade.

It could be the most colorful Mummers Parade since the hijinx started in 1901.

There will be 30 clubs represented in the 4½ mile line of march, competing for $66,500 in cash prizes for best in class. The comic division starts the strutting about 8 a.m. EST.

They will be followed by four fancy clubs, members bedecked in satin and sequin costumes, and then 21 string bands providing the catchy music.

Police estimate more than a million persons will line the sidewalks and crowd windows of buildings along the parade route for the seven-hour extravaganza.

Many, perhaps still feeling the aftermath of too much New Year's Eve celebrating, will turn glazed eyes on television screens to see the annual parade.

The police department said it will have 1,100 uniformed officers on duty in the parade area to handle traffic control and take care of the myriad of problems that usually pop up during the parade.

For the Mummers, Saturday's march marks the culmination of many months of preparation and many thousands of dollars spent for the colorful costumes. Often the clubs have mobilized entire neighborhoods in their efforts.

The prize money doesn't come close to matching expenses which the clubs incur.

While there is a rain date set for the parade, in this case Jan. 8, a postponed parade somehow never is as good as the original. So, for these New Year's Mummers, all rests on Saturday. There have been only eight such postponements in the parade's history—one of these last year.

Newsmen Given Subpoenaes In Birns' Appeal

CLEVELAND (AP) — Attorneys for Cleveland rackets figure Alex (Shondor) Birns Friday issued subpoenas to ten newsmen and news managers to appear at a hearing appealing his conviction of witness tampering and bribery.

Birns' lawyers are charging that public announcement of an indictment in an income tax case by the federal grand jury prejudiced jurors in the bribery trial. Announcement of the federal indictment came Dec. 21, a day before Birns' bribery case went to a common pleas jury.

Jack G. Day, one of Birns' lawyers, said the subpoenas went to newsmen and managers of the city's three commercial television stations and two major newspapers. Also subpoened were news managers of the Associated Press and United Press International.

The appeal hearing will begin Monday in common pleas court. Birns was sentenced by Common Pleas Judge John L. Angelotta to serve concurrent sentences of one to ten and one to three years in Ohio Penitentiary. He is currently free on $5,000 bond awaiting the outcome of his appeal.

Georgetown Man, 20, Cited After Car Crash

Kenneth Rosak, 20, of Georgetown R.D. 1 was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control Friday by Hancock County sheriff's deputies following a traffic mishap on the Hardin Run Rd., near New Cumberland.

Rosak's westbound auto struck another driven by Thomas Lee Church, 47, of New Cumberland R.D. 1 in an attempt to pass, deputies said.

Deputies estimated $75 damage to the Church auto. The accident was timed about 3 p.m.

India is the most "barefooted country" in the world, with almost 82 per cent of the population habitually going without shoes.

Have A Happy New Year

If 1965 was the Year of Revolts as some have been dubbing it, 1966 may very well prove to be the Year of Reversal.

A great many things are not going in the direction Americans wanted them to go in. This accounted for some of the disquiet in the Year of Revolt.

It has crossed many minds which had not been crossed by anything except happy, sanguine thoughts that wishes could be fathers to thoughts but never were fathers to events.

Neither in affairs abroad nor at home did things turn out the way it had been wished they would turn out. Events were stubborn. If they continue to be stubborn, they may set in motion a backwash of reversals in 1966 that could breed collective dispiritedness.

There is less guarantee than usual that happiness in 1966 is going to be a collective state. The prospect of large-scale disillusionment in 1966 must be taken into consideration.

National euphoria reached epidemic proportions after the 1964 national election, when it appeared for a time that all doubts had been resolved and the only way to move was straight ahead. The euphori has disintegrated.

Having a happy new year in 1966 is not likely to be a collective enterprise. It never was before, though sometimes the euphoric illusion of mass happiness prevailed. But in the coming year happiness will go back to the individual's state of mind.

It will have to be found in each person's ability to make peace with himself about a violent and belligerent world.

It will have to be found in historic perspective on events that otherwise are only brutal and senseless.

It will have to be found in attempts to understand the long-range design of things whose short-range effects are chaotic.

And most of all, it will have to be found in the individual's willingness to accept the world as it is instead of upbraiding it for not being some better world that exists only in imagination.

The world as it is leaves much to be desired. It always has. But it is the best world there is—the best of all possible worlds—and what it leaves to be desired is part of its good quality.

Have a Happy New Year!

Look for happiness where it always must be found—in the hearts and minds of men. May everybody find his fair share of it in his own heart and mind in 1966.

Happy New Year!

By Truman Twill

Herewith a few special Happy New Years:

To people who read this column and let its author know how they feel about it, because it is not the kind of column that gives away anything and has no reader participant gimmick like Ann Landers.

To people who take pride in workmanlike performances when hired for their special talents. They offset the kind who are accused of taking no pride at all, though these are less numerous than might be imagined from hearing chronic complainers talk about shoddy workmanship.

To people who have the blessed knack of making the most of what they have, which usually is less precious than the possessions and attributes of associates who do not comprehend this.

To people who are cheerful in the presence of the same provocations to gloom and despair that make other people morbid, cantankerous and hard to get along with. If the world is really going to hell in a basket, as the Gloomers and Doomers say it is, we may as well enjoy the ride, because we can't stop the world and get off.

To people who stay in line when driving automobiles, meaning they drive at the same speed as other drivers, neither faster nor slower. These non-accident causers have the gratitude of all of us who want to stay alive though motoring.

To people who concede that in a representative democracy progress must be made through compromise, meaning no one will get all he wants, nor will anyone lose everything he has.

To young females who dress and behave as though they thought it was a fine thing to be what they are and do not dress and behave as though they wanted to be tramps.

To young males who aspire to something more useful than being bad imitations of showoffs who have learned they can make a living by giving impressionable soft-heads a chance to make fools of themselves.

To people who do not go along with the preachment that evil forces are closing in on us, because that is what people in mental hospitals believe and they are called paranoiacs, which is a harsh word.

To people who make the long socks I got for Christmas this year because they not only keep my legs and feet warm but protect me from slings, arrows, open file drawers, misplaced wastebaskets, typewriter stand braces and chair legs which are the occupational hazards of an otherwise tame occupation.

To people who can see the similarity between our bombing in Viet Nam and the Nazis' bombing in England during World War I and World War II. The Nazis thought they were destroying British will to fight. The Britons were furious at the barbarians destroying their homeland. That's what Germans thought when Britain and the United States turned the bombing tables and I doubt that either side ever will forgive the other.

To all these people and many more, Happy New Year.

You, too.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

As the father of a couple of sons, you probably know all about the 4-4-2.

You don't?

Well, Twill, contrary to your guess that it might be the measurements of a small midget beauty queen, it refers to a space-age hot car with four-barrel carburetor, four-speed-forward stick shift and dual exhausts. Get it? 4-4-2.

You are wondering how I came upon this information.

It's easy. I have daughters who have impecunious hot-rod boy friends, who spend their dating time exploring used car lots.

If you look real quick, this year 4-4-2 means 400 cubic inches cylinder displacement, and the second 4 means four-barrel carburetor, with the 2 remaining as the dual exhaust.

Hope this is all apple-pie plain to you, Twill. If it isn't just consult your boys or some other expert.

Whew!

Then there was the husband who gave his wife a new (any child can operate it) jack for changing flat tires on the family car, with a spinner lug wrench as a special treat, and his wife gave him a new rug for the living room.

After Christmas they both went down to the stores and exchanged their gifts and both were happy.

Remember how Swiss watches used to be prized so highly because they were all handmade by master craftsmen? Now the Swiss turn out most of their watches with the automated machinery which those same craftsmen made.

This is completely aside from trusting the word of a Communist, which I wouldn't do any further than you would, Twill.

You can start a nice argument by asking almost anyone whether it is ethical to give an early Christmas gift you have received to someone else in the same fancy wrapping. This remains unresolved in our household.

At various times I have resolved, as I do on New Year's, never to argue with a professional in his own field of expertise.

At this late date, the only fields I can think of where this holds true are in medicine, electricity, plumbing and law.

Not many laymen can argue intelligently with a doctor, electrician, plumber or lawyer, but we have civilians at the top of our government telling the military what to do, householders advising interior decorators, everybody advising professional politicans and other multitudes telling auto mechanics how to fix cars.

Fairest game of all are newspaper editors. They are dumber than anybody. Everybody advises them.

An engineer, sixtyish in age, was talking of retiring and asked about sound-proof apartments.

When someone suggested that it would be good not to have noise from the neighbors bothering him late at night, his wife volunteered, "No it isn't that. He might want to play the piano at three o'clock in the morning and it might bother the neighbors."

New Year's Celebrations Go Way Back

By JOHN N. ADAMS
Brush-Moore Special Writer

Ever since prehistoric man made a mark on the ground with a pointed stick, he has celebrated the New Year. This oldest and most universal of all festivals has known every season. Sometimes it was celebrated at the autumnal equinox, other times at the spring equinox. Sometimes it was in winter, other times in the summer or fall.

Though time and place dictated the observance, the Encyclopedia Britannica records that all observances have included "rites and ceremonies expressive of mortification, purgation, invigoration and jubilation over life's renewal."

The earliest-known record of New Year's festivals dates from about 2000 B.C. in Mespotamia, where the Babylonians of the Tigris-Euphrates Valley celebrated Akitu (New Year's) in the spring — the 1st to the 10th of the month of Nisan — with rites recounting the epic of creation.

The king was made to pay public penance for any misdeeds affecting the states, after which he assumed the role of Tammuz, god of agriculture, and was married to the goddess Ishtar, the Earth Mother, a ritual that was to assure divine rule, fertility and prosperity.

The Assyrian segment held its New Year's celebration at the autumnal equinox with similar rites.

Year Started In Autumn

The autumnal equinox also marked the beginning of the year for Egyptians, Phoenicians and Persians who honored their dead with various offerings and lights rituals.

For the Greeks, until the 5th century B.C., the winter solstice, Dec. 21, marked the start of the year. Their festivals were local in origin with each city-state having its own calendar, though processions such as depicted on the frieze of the Parthenon are believed to have been a prominent feature of each. Public feasts were held at the expense of the city. Dramas, particularly tragedies, and games were part of the celebration.

Under the Roman republican calendar, the year began on March 1 until 153 B.C. when the official date was changed to Jan. 1, a date later confirmed in 46 B.C. with adoption of the Julian calendar.

The Romans indulged in feasting, orgies and worship of the hearth, which developed into the cult of the vestal virgins. All Roman festivals of the official calendar were civic holidays. Keeping the feasts was a patriotic duty. The feast of Saturn gives us our "saturnalia."

Rosh Hashana is the two-day holiday celebrated at the start of the Jewish New Year. At this time, the traditional blowing of the shophar is observed.

Changed Often In Europe

In early medieval times most of Christian Europe regarded March 25 as the beginning of the year, though in Anglo-Saxon England it was Dec. 25, until William the Conqueror decreed that the year start on Jan. 1.

Later, the English began their year with the rest of Christendom on March 25. Not until Pope Gregory reformed the calendar in 1582 was Jan. 1 adopted as the beginning of the year by Roman Catholic countries. Other European countries later followed suit: Scotland 1660; German and Denmark about 1700; Russia 1706; England 1752 and Sweden 1753.

Probably the most restrained of all New Year's celebrations is the one observed by followers of Zoroaster. It is not sanctioned by the church, though Nauruz is observed in Iran.

During Trut, or New Year's, which is March or April in our calendar, Buddhist monks exorcise ghosts from the vicinity and are presented gifts. Sacrifices are made to various gods of Hindu origin and as people meet, water is thrown by one on the other. Gambling, usually frowned upon, is permitted for the three-day festival.

Chinese Feast Longest

Chinese probably have the longest celebration of New Year's. The festivities officially last for a month, beginning in late January or early February. They are preceded by theatrical performances and expulsion of demons. Offerings are made to gods of hearth and wealth and to ancestors.

A ceremonial housecleaning, giving of presents, presentation of cakes to household shrines and offerings of rice to the sources of household water are ways the Japanese celebrate the arrival of the New Year.

Little is known of the customs or lives of the peoples, but Stonehenge, the circular setting of large standing stones in the southern part of England, is believed by many to have been prehistoric man's instrument for measuring the year.

The Mayas of Yucatan had a calendar of curious features and a pattern analogous to that of the Chinese sexagesimal cycle of 260 days. It consisted of 20 symbols representing days combined with the numerals 1 to 13, giving a cycle of 260 days then starting over again. The Maya solar year consisted of 18 months of 20 days with five extra days at the end which were called "days without name."

Many Reforms Proposed

Calendar reform has been proposed many times since the Gregorian calendar was adopted in 1582. Each proposal has failed, either a victim of parochial resentment or because of miscalculations by the inventor.

Walter F. Rothe, founder and president of the Universal Calendar Society Inc., Washington, D. C., has copyrighted a calendar which would form 13 identical months into uniform years and end the centuries-old chaos of our present system. With this calendar, each day of the year would recur each year on the same day of the week as well as the same month date.

Everything from birthdays, wedding anniversaries, income tax day, Christmas, Easter, Mother's Day etc., from moon launchings, interest payment periods could be calculated to the minute. School and university openings, closings and holiday schedules wouldn't have to be scrapped each year but once set up would serve year after year.

Each month would start on Monday and end 28 days later, on Sunday. Any given day would fall on the same four dates each month. The year would be 364 days. To compensate for those extra microseconds, every fourth year, one-day holidays would be fitted between equal halves of each 182-day period or every 91 days.

An ideal time for switching over to Rothe's Universal Calendar would be Jan. 1, 1968, which falls on a Monday.

Adjustments Necessary

Rothe admits greater or lesser adjustments would be necessary for all of us but so were they necessary when the change was made to the Gregorian calendar and he points out the inconvenience would be short-lived and worth it. "Our present calendar becomes more outmoded," he says, "each day we progress further ahead of the Roman chariot."

A modern philosopher has said that time is the mind of space. In that sense the history of the calendar is in some fashion the history of the logic of time, and time itself in its secular changes will yield the answer to these problems as it has already answered so many riddles of the past.

So, if you are confused, this New Year's remember that man has been confused about the calendar since the beginning of time put away your cares and enjoy the day and if you would like to celebrate two 1966 New Year's, that can be arranged. Simply take a plane or boat to Taveuni Island in the Fiji in the middle of the Pacific, it's the International Date Line. The islanders can celebrate the New Years on one side of the island first, then move over to the other side for a second celebration. But for all who celebrate, only one day here, at home, Happy New Year, too.

Firing Of Unwed

By Victor Riesel

There's No Longer 'Man's Job'

Sex is as sex does. And Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., whose official task it is to see that one sex is never more equal than another, now has a Solomonic problem before him.

Victor Riesel

At least 71 women have complained that the big glass firm which employs them has a policy of firing any lady who has borne two illegitimate children. This is rank discrimination, they have charged officially. They insist the policy should cut two ways. Their employer, they say, should also fire any male worker who has sired more than one illegitimate child.

It's all in the record. The report prepared by the Philadelphia section of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) was sent down to Washington on Nov. 30 for loftier wisdom.

The protesting women, according to the report, are employed by the Huntington, W. Va., division of the Owens-Illinois Glass Co., headquartered in Toledo. The distaff personnel are members of a staid union, the Glass Bottle Blowers Association. It's led by Lee Minton, who also is a national AFL-CIO vice president.

A government official explained to this column that the policy on illegitimate children has been in effect for some time but that, of course, no one knows when it has been invoked or against whom for reasons of confidential and sensitive relationships between corporation and the ladies.

THERE IS NO DOUBT of the seriousness of the women's protest. It's point five of a number of other complaints — such as company preference for men crew leaders, quality inspectors and testers of general work.

Admittedly this is a rather unique protest by the ladies who say that if mother is punished so should father, if there is a limit on the female there should be one on the male's proclivities.

The entire matter of women and children and special personnel policies affecting female workers, under Title 7 of the Equal Employment Opportunity Act, has deeply troubled labor leaders and government officials as well as corporation executives.

One of those now studying the problem in depth is the scholarly president of the Office and Professional Employes Union, Howard Coughlin.

"This law could revolutionize hiring, affect tens of thousands of insurance policies covering health and welfare programs, change collective bargaining and, indeed, affect the economy," Coughlin said. "It should be remembered that women make up one third of America's work force."

MR. COUGHLIN'S reference was to the fact that Title 7 rulings indicate that it will be illegal to issue policies which give the male greater coverage than female employes. Virtually all policies and coverage plans now give more life insurance to men than women. Most of these policies give males greater benefits for their dependents.

Billions on billions of dollars will be involved in the equalization process as all federal agencies swing into full enforcement of the equal sex law.

ON THE QUESTION of children, for example, there is the impact of the legitimate ones. Many firms are reluctant to hire women with preschool age children unless the female is divorced or putting her husband through college.

The businessmen believe the mother who has a working husband will stay home if the youngsters have a snivel. Such wholesale absenteeism during the winter months costs millions. But the law now says it is illegal to discriminate against women if they have children, unless the same rule applies to the men.

Many companies fire the women when they marry. The law says that this must now be true of men.

Many other large corporations don't train distaffers for upgrading to executive positions on the theory that they'll quit when they have children or simply will retire much earlier than men. From now on this is illegal discrimination.

So brace yourselves, gentlemen. There no longer is such a thing as a man's job.

Have A Happy New Year

If 1965 was the Year of Revolts as some have been dubbing it, 1966 may very well prove to be the Year of Reversal.

A great many things are not going in the direction Americans wanted them to go in. This accounted for some of the disquiet in the Year of Revolt.

It has crossed many minds which had not been crossed by anything except happy, sanguine thoughts that wishes could be fathers to thoughts but never were fathers to events.

Neither in affairs abroad nor at home did things turn out the way it had been wished they would turn out. Events were stubborn. If they continue to be stubborn, they may set in motion a backwash of reversals in 1966 that could breed collective dispiritedness.

There is less guarantee than usual that happiness in 1966 is going to be a collective state. The prospect of large-scale disillusionment in 1966 must be taken into consideration.

National euphoria reached epidemic proportions after the 1964 national election, when it appeared for a time that all doubts had been resolved and the only way to move was straight ahead. The euphori has disintegrated.

Having a happy new year in 1966 is not likely to be a collective enterprise. It never was before, though sometimes the euphoric illusion of mass happiness prevailed. But in the coming year happiness will go back to the individual's state of mind.

It will have to be found in each person's ability to make peace with himself about a violent and belligerent world.

It will have to be found in historic perspective on events that otherwise are only brutal and senseless.

It will have to be found in attempts to understand the long-range design of things whose short-range effects are chaotic.

And most of all, it will have to be found in the individual's willingness to accept the world as it is instead of upbraiding it for not being some better world that exists only in imagination.

The world as it is leaves much to be desired. It always has. But it is the best world there is—the best of all possible worlds—and what it leaves to be desired is part of its good quality.

Have a Happy New Year!

Look for happiness where it always must be found—in the hearts and minds of men. May everybody find his fair share of it in his own heart and mind in 1966.

Happy New Year!

By Truman Twill

Herewith a few special Happy New Years:

To people who read this column and let its author know how they feel about it, because it is not the kind of column that gives away anything and has no reader participant gimmick like Ann Landers.

To people who take pride in workmanlike performances when hired for their special talents. They offset the kind who are accused of taking no pride at all, though these are less numerous than might be imagined from hearing chronic complainers talk about shoddy workmanship.

To people who have the blessed knack of making the most of what they have, which usually is less precious than the possessions and attributes of associates who do not comprehend this.

To people who are cheerful in the presence of the same provocations to gloom and despair that make other people morbid, cantankerous and hard to get along with. If the world is really going to hell in a basket, as the Gloomers and Doomers say it is, we may as well enjoy the ride, because we can't stop the world and get off.

To people who stay in line when driving automobiles, meaning they drive at the same speed as other drivers, neither faster nor slower. These non-accident causers have the gratitude of all of us who want to stay alive though motoring.

To people who concede that in a representative democracy progress must be made through compromise, meaning no one will get all he wants, nor will anyone lose everything he has.

To young females who dress and behave as though they thought it was a fine thing to be what they are and do not dress and behave as though they wanted to be tramps.

To young males who aspire to something more useful than being bad imitations of showoffs who have learned they can make a living by giving impressionable soft-heads a chance to make fools of themselves.

To people who do not go along with the preachment that evil forces are closing in on us, because that is what people in mental hospitals believe and they are called paranoiacs, which is a harsh word.

To people who make the long socks I got for Christmas this year because they not only keep my legs and feet warm but protect me from slings, arrows, open file drawers, misplaced wastebaskets, typewriter stand braces and chair legs which are the occupational hazards of an otherwise tame occupation.

To people who can see the similarity between our bombing in Viet Nam and the Nazis' bombing in England during World War I and World War II. The Nazis thought they were destroying British will to fight. The Britons were furious at the barbarians destroying their homeland. That's what Germans thought when Britain and the United States turned the bombing tables and I doubt that either side ever will forgive the other.

To all these people and many more, Happy New Year.

You, too.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

As the father of a couple of sons, you probably know all about the 4-4-2.

You don't?

Well, Twill, contrary to your guess that it might be the measurements of a small midget beauty queen, it refers to a space-age hot car with four-barrel carburetor, four-speed-forward stick shift and dual exhausts. Get it? 4-4-2.

You are wondering how I came upon this information.

It's easy. I have daughters who have impecunious hot-rod boy friends, who spend their dating time exploring used car lots.

If you look real quick, this year 4-4-2 means 400 cubic inches cylinder displacement, and the second 4 means four-barrel carburetor, with the 2 remaining as the dual exhaust.

Hope this is all apple-pie plain to you, Twill. If it isn't just consult your boys or some other expert.

Whew!

Then there was the husband who gave his wife a new (any child can operate it) jack for changing flat tires on the family car, with a spinner lug wrench as a special treat, and his wife gave him a new rug for the living room.

After Christmas they both went down to the stores and exchanged their gifts and both were happy.

Remember how Swiss watches used to be prized so highly because they were all handmade by master craftsmen? Now the Swiss turn out most of their watches with the automated machinery which those same craftsmen made.

This is completely aside from trusting the word of a Communist, which I wouldn't do any further than you would, Twill.

You can start a nice argument by asking almost anyone whether it is ethical to give an early Christmas gift you have received to someone else in the same fancy wrapping. This remains unresolved in our household.

At various times I have resolved, as I do on New Year's, never to argue with a professional in his own field of expertise.

At this late date, the only fields I can think of where this holds true are in medicine, electricity, plumbing and law.

Not many laymen can argue intelligently with a doctor, electrician, plumber or lawyer, but we have civilians at the top of our government telling the military what to do, householders advising interior decorators, everybody advising professional politicans and other multitudes telling auto mechanics how to fix cars.

Fairest game of all are newspaper editors. They are dumber than anybody. Everybody advises them.

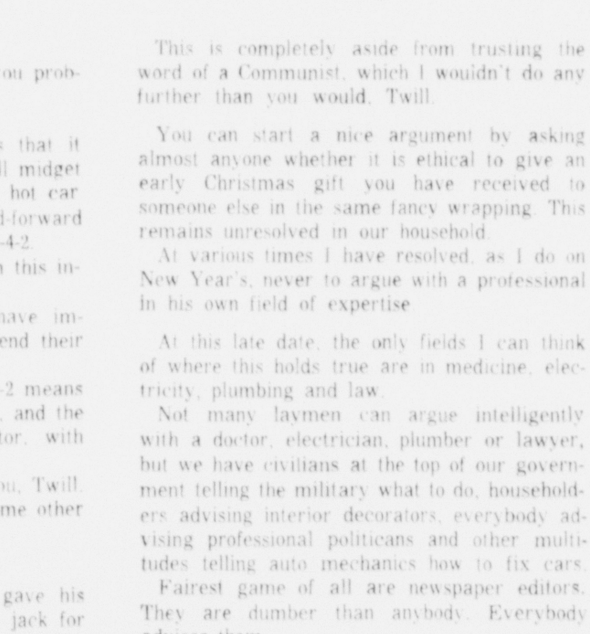

An engineer, sixtyish in age, was talking of retiring and asked about sound-proof apartments.

When someone suggested that it would be good not to have noise from the neighbors bothering him late at night, his wife volunteered, "No it isn't that. He might want to play the piano at three o'clock in the morning and it might bother the neighbors."

New Year's Celebrations Go Way Back

Brush-Moore Special Writer

Ever since prehistoric man made a mark on the ground with a pointed stick, he has celebrated the New Year. This oldest and most universal of all festivals has known every season. Sometimes it was celebrated at the autumnal equinox, other times at the spring equinox. Sometimes it was in winter, other times in the summer or fall.

Though time and place dictated the observance, the Encyclopedia Britannica records that all observances have included "rites and ceremonies expressive of mortification, purgation, invigoration and jubilation over life's renewal."

The earliest-known record of New Year's festivals dates from about 2000 B.C. in Mespotamia, where the Babylonians of the Tigris-Euphrates Valley celebrated Akitu (New Year's) in the spring — the 1st to the 10th of the month of Nisan — with rites recounting the epic of creation.

The king was made to pay public penance for any misdeeds affecting the states, after which he assumed the role of Tammuz, god of agriculture, and was married to the goddess Ishtar, the Earth Mother, a ritual that was to assure divine rule, fertility and prosperity.

The Assyrian segment held its New Year's celebration at the autumnal equinox with similar rites.

Year Started In Autumn

The autumnal equinox also marked the beginning of the year for Egyptians, Phoenicians and Persians who honored their dead with various offerings and lights rituals.

For the Greeks, until the 5th century B.C., the winter solstice, Dec. 21, marked the start of the year. Their festivals were local in origin with each city-state having its own calendar, though processions such as depicted on the frieze of the Parthenon are believed to have been a prominent feature of each. Public feasts were held at the expense of the city. Dramas, particularly tragedies, and games were part of the celebration.

Under the Roman republican calendar, the year began on March 1 until 153 B.C. when the official date was changed to Jan. 1, a date later confirmed in 46 B.C. with adoption of the Julian calendar.

The Romans indulged in feasting, orgies and worship of the hearth, which developed into the cult of the vestal virgins. All Roman festivals of the official calendar were civic holidays. Keeping the feasts was a patriotic duty. The feast of Saturn gives us our "saturnalia."

Rosh Hashana is the two-day holiday celebrated at the start of the Jewish New Year. At this time, the traditional blowing of the shophar is observed.

Changed Often In Europe

In early medieval times most of Christian Europe regarded March 25 as the beginning of the year, though in Anglo-Saxon England it was Dec. 25, until William the Conqueror decreed that the year start on Jan. 1.

Later, the English began their year with the rest of Christendom on March 25. Not until Pope Gregory reformed the calendar in 1582 was Jan. 1 adopted as the beginning of the year by Roman Catholic countries. Other European countries later followed suit: Scotland 1660; German and Denmark about 1700; Russia 1706; England 1752 and Sweden 1753.

Probably the most restrained of all New Year's celebrations is the one observed by followers of Zoroaster. It is not sanctioned by the church, though Nauruz is observed in Iran.

During Trut, or New Year's, which is March or April in our calendar, Buddhist monks exorcise ghosts from the vicinity and are presented gifts. Sacrifices are made to various gods of Hindu origin and as people meet, water is thrown by one on the other. Gambling, usually frowned upon, is permitted for the three-day festival.

Chinese Feast Longest

Chinese probably have the longest celebration of New Year's. The festivities officially last for a month, beginning in late January or early February. They are preceded by theatrical performances and expulsion of demons. Offerings are made to gods of hearth and wealth and to ancestors.

A ceremonial housecleaning, giving of presents, presentation of cakes to household shrines and offerings of rice to the sources of household water are ways the Japanese celebrate the arrival of the New Year.

Little is known of the customs or lives of the peoples, but Stonehenge, the circular setting of large standing stones in the southern part of England, is believed by many to have been prehistoric man's instrument for measuring the year.

The Mayas of Yucatan had a calendar of curious features and a pattern analogous to that of the Chinese sexagesimal cycle of 260 days. It consisted of 20 symbols representing days combined with the numerals 1 to 13, giving a cycle of 260 days then starting over again. The Maya solar year consisted of 18 months of 20 days with five extra days at the end which were called "days without name."

Many Reforms Proposed

Calendar reform has been proposed many times since the Gregorian calendar was adopted in 1582. Each proposal has failed, either a victim of parochial resentment or because of miscalculations by the inventor.

Walter F. Rothe, founder and president of the Universal Calendar Society Inc., Washington, D. C., has copyrighted a calendar which would form 13 identical months into uniform years and end the centuries-old chaos of our present system. With this calendar, each day of the year would recur each year on the same day of the week as well as the same month date.

Everything from birthdays, wedding anniversaries, income tax day, Christmas, Easter, Mother's Day etc., from moon launchings, interest payment periods could be calculated to the minute. School and university openings, closings and holiday schedules wouldn't have to be scrapped each year but once set up would serve year after year.

Each month would start on Monday and end 28 days later, on Sunday. Any given day would fall on the same four dates each month. The year would be 364 days. To compensate for those extra microseconds, every fourth year, one-day holidays would be fitted between equal halves of each 182-day period or every 91 days.

An ideal time for switching over to Rothe's Universal Calendar would be Jan. 1, 1968, which falls on a Monday.

Adjustments Necessary

Rothe admits greater or lesser adjustments would be necessary for all of us but so were they necessary when the change was made to the Gregorian calendar and he points out the inconvenience would be short-lived and worth it. "Our present calendar becomes more outmoded," he says, "each day we progress further ahead of the Roman chariot."

A modern philosopher has said that time is the mind of space. In that sense the history of the calendar is in some fashion the history of the logic of time, and time itself in its secular changes will yield the answer to these problems as it has already answered so many riddles of the past.

So, if you are confused, this New Year's remember that man has been confused about the calendar since the beginning of time put away your cares and enjoy the day and if you would like to celebrate two 1966 New Year's, that can be arranged. Simply take a plane or boat to Taveuni Island in the Fiji in the middle of the Pacific, it's the International Date Line. The islanders can celebrate the New Years on one side of the island first, then move over to the other side for a second celebration. But for all who celebrate only one day here, at home, Happy New Year, too.

Firing Of Unwed

There's No Longer 'Man's Job'

Sex is as sex does. And Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., whose official task it is to see that one sex is never more equal than another, now has a Solomonic problem before him.

Victor Riesel

At least 71 women have complained that the big glass firm which employs them has a policy of firing any lady who has borne two illegitimate children. A government official explained to this column that the policy on illegitimate children has been in effect for some time but that, of course, no one knows when it has been invoked or against whom for reasons of confidential and sensitive relationships between corporation and the ladies.

THERE IS NO DOUBT of the seriousness of the women's protest. It's point five of a number of other complaints — such as company preference for men crew leaders, quality inspectors and testers of general work.

Admittedly this is a rather unique protest by the ladies who say that if mother is punished so should father, if there is a limit on the female there should be one on the male's proclivities.

The entire matter of women and children and special personnel policies affecting female workers, under Title 7 of the Equal Employment Opportunity Act, has deeply troubled labor leaders and government officials as well as corporation executives.

One of those now studying the problem in depth is the scholarly president of the Office and Professional Employes Union, Howard Coughlin.

"This law could revolutionize hiring, affect tens of thousands of insurance policies covering health and welfare programs, change collective bargaining and, indeed, affect the economy," Coughlin said. "It should be remembered that women make up one third of America's work force."

MR. COUGHLIN'S reference was to the fact that Title 7 rulings indicate that it will be illegal to issue policies which give the male greater coverage than female employes. Virtually all policies and coverage plans now give more life insurance to men than women. Most of these policies give males greater benefits for their dependents.

Billions on billions of dollars will be involved in the equalization process as all federal agencies swing into full enforcement of the equal sex law.

ON THE QUESTION of children, for example, there is the impact of the legitimate ones. Many firms are reluctant to hire women with preschool age children unless the female is divorced or putting her husband through college.

The businessmen believe the mother who has a working husband will stay home if the youngsters have a snivel. Such wholesale absenteeism during the winter months costs millions. But the law now says it is illegal to discriminate against women if they have children, unless the same rule applies to the men.

Many companies fire the women when they marry. The law says that this must now be true of men.

Many other large corporations don't train distaffers for upgrading to executive positions on the theory that they'll quit when they have children or simply will retire much earlier than men. From now on this is illegal discrimination.

So brace yourselves, gentlemen. There no longer is such a thing as a man's job.

HAROLDSWICK, Shetland Island (AP) — Having celebrated Christmas Dec. 25, the 500 fisher folk and crofters here on the North Sea island of Unst celebrate the New Year Saturday, another Christmas Jan. 6 and a second New Year Jan. 13. When Britain, about 200 years ago, readjusted the calendar, the parish church here stuck with the old calendar, and ever since the islanders have had four holidays instead of two.

Hope Says GIs In Viet Ridicule Anti-War Action

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope, returned from a tour of Southeast Asia, says servicemen he talked to there think the anti-war demonstrations in the United States are "pretty ridiculous."

"I told them," said Hope, "that the students are letting up on the draft demonstrations — they've run out of matches.

"And I suggested to Secretary of Defense (Robert) McNamara that if they are old enough to use matches, they are old enough to be drafted."

Hope and his troupe came home Thursday. He was greeted by his wife, Dolores, his two sons and two daughters, and newsmen. Reporters asked him about injuries he suffered in a fall last week in Thailand.

Hope pulled up a trouser leg and showed his bruises.

"I just fell off the stage," he said. "I'll do anything for a laugh."

How Can I?

ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What can I do, when restringing beads, if the holes in the beads are too small for a needle to pass through?

A.—Discard the needle and rub a little glue on the end of the thread, working it into a point. When this is dry (which takes only a few minutes), it will be hard and stiff, and you can then proceed with your stringing.

Q.—What can I do when I've finished using a can of paint, but expect to use it again in another day or two?

A.—You can preserve your paint and prevent any thick film from forming on its surface if you'll just pour a little water over it. When you're ready to use your paint again, all you have to do is pour off the water.

Q.—How can I make the washing of very greasy dishes much easier?

A.—By squeezing lemon juice into your hot water before beginning your chore.

Q.—How can I renew some drooping and bent-over candles?

A.—Place them in a flat-bottomed pan filled with water at about 80 degrees. Add small amounts of hotter water until the candles can be straightened easily. Once they have been reshaped, drop the candles into a container of cold water, so they will reharden.

Q.—How can I satisfactorily mend a tear in a kid glove?

A.—Buttonhole around the edge of the tear before drawing it together. Then oversew the buttonhole. Your repair should then be a substantial one.

Q.—How can I clean velvet coat collars?

A.—By using hot water and ammonia, and sponging lightly. When this dries, sponge with alcohol.

How Can I?

ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What can I do, when restringing beads, if the holes in the beads are too small for a needle to pass through?

A.—Discard the needle and rub a little glue on the end of the thread, working it into a point. When this is dry (which takes only a few minutes), it will be hard and stiff, and you can then proceed with your stringing.

Q.—What can I do when I've finished using a can of paint, but expect to use it again in another day or two?

A.—You can preserve your paint and prevent any thick film from forming on its surface if you'll just pour a little water over it. When you're ready to use your paint again, all you have to do is pour off the water.

Q.—How can I make the washing of very greasy dishes much easier?

A.—By squeezing lemon juice into your hot water before beginning your chore.

Q.—How can I renew some drooping and bent-over candles?

A.—Place them in a flat-bottomed pan filled with water at about 80 degrees. Add small amounts of hotter water until the candles can be straightened easily. Once they have been reshaped, drop the candles into a container of cold water, so they will reharden.

Q.—How can I satisfactorily mend a tear in a kid glove?

A.—Buttonhole around the edge of the tear before drawing it together. Then oversew the buttonhole. Your repair should then be a substantial one.

Q.—How can I clean velvet coat collars?

Confident Of Continued Prosperity

Experts See $40 Billion Economy Increase In '66

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government experts believe the bubbling national economy will expand by another $40 billion in 1966.

They are confident of continued prosperity — so confident that the most pressing worry is rising prices resulting from the rapid military build-up in Viet Nam and the momentum of five years of steadily rising business activity.

In contrast, economists a year ago expressed some concern about a dip in business activity during 1965.

Even the higher interest brakes applied by the Federal Reserve Board are not likely to stop the economic locomotive. The four members of the board who voted for the move believe the only effect will be to keep the fast-moving express from jumping the track.

At least some administration officials share this view, even though they — and President Johnson — criticized the board for acting in early December, some six or seven weeks before the annual announcement of the federal budget and its probable impact on the economy.

BY A 4-3 VOTE the board raised the discount rate—the interest paid by banks when they borrow from the Federal Reserve—from 4 to 4.5 per cent. The rate is the highest in more than three decades. It was designed as a checkrein on an economy that has shown more sustained strength than any previous peacetime boom.

The gross national product — the total of all public and private goods produced during the year — is expected to be $672 billion for 1965 compared to $628.7 billion in 1964.

The GNP should be running at an annual rate of more than $700 billion within two or three months and the 1966 total is estimated at $710 billion to $715 billion.

This forecast by government officials could be easily surpassed if spending for the Viet Nam war continues to mushroom and if the higher rates on credit fail to dampen business enthusiasm.

As in the past several years, government officials say the time for balancing the international accounts is just around the corner. However, they now have set a definite target for 1966: a deficit or surplus in the balance of payments of not more than $250 million.

The deficit — more dollars going overseas than returning — probably will run about $1.5 billion for 1965. It was $2.8 billion in 1964.

Last February the government persuaded banks and businesses to impose limits on their loans and investments in other countries. The bank program was highly successful and accounted for a large proportion of the balance of payments improvement in 1965.

HOWEVER, corporations continued to build plants overseas at an expanding rate of investment. The administration in early December asked the internationally minded companies to set more definite goals.

No action is contemplated, officials said, in regard to the last remaining large dollar gap: the dollars carried overseas by record numbers of American tourists.

The balance of payments has been in deficit for 14 of the past 15 years because payments to foreigners exceed payments from foreigners.

If large amounts of dollars collect in official foreign government vaults, they frequently swap them for U.S. gold. This resulted in a loss of some $1.3 billion in 1965 from the U.S. gold stock, which now stands at about $13.8 billion.

The domestic economy's performance in 1965 set a record, of course, and the projected GNP for next year would establish another one. However, records of this sort are automatic if the economic system is in good condition. In fact, a $40-billion gain in 1966 still would be slightly below the percentage increase in GNP in 1965.

One economist said: "We need another $40-billion advance next year just to absorb the additions to the labor force next year — in other words, to keep unemployment close to 4 per cent."

A YEAR AGO administration economists were worried about a letdown in the latter half of 1965. A multistage excise tax cut and a 7 per cent increase in Social Security pensioners' benefits were put into effect.

Even with these stimulants there was some concern that heavy steel inventories following the May-to-September labor crisis and the increase in Social Security taxes next year might be enough to cause a down-spiral.

Now, the economic doctors believe the scales may have been tipped the other way.

They are concerned about holding business on a controllable course in order to avert inflation. Prices of industrial commodities started moving upward after remaining virtually unchanged for 4 ½ years, and the rate of increase in consumer prices rose after holding at 1.5 per cent or less for several years.

The administration started two years ago exhorting business and labor to exercise restraint on price and wages increases, and it has redoubled its efforts in the past few months. Aluminum and copper was released from government stockpiles to head off price increases. Johnson used his persuasive technique to help bring about wage settlements in the steel and maritime industries.

With defense spending scheduled to rise as much as $4 billion and total federal spending by $7 billion to $8 billion in the current fiscal year, a slight easing of consumer enthusiasm might be welcome.

However, consumer surveys indicate continued strong demand in key areas. There seems to be no end in sight to the booming automobile sales and the steady upward trend in purchases of color television sets and other household goods.

HOUSING CONTINUES in the doldrums in comparison to some good years in the past.

Businessmen also are in a free-spending mood. They scheduled a 13 per cent increase in investment in plant and equipment — the fourth straight substantial rise. Higher interest rates would cause a cutback in some projects.

The higher Social Security taxes which take effect January 1 will help slightly in dampening consumer buying pressure since takehome pay wil be lowered for most employes. There will be no offsetting government expenditures immediately since the program of medical care for the aged does not get under way until July 1.

However, the higher payroll taxes to finance the new program also will cut another way: the matching portion paid by businessmen means an additional cost of doing business and therefore an argument for raising prices.

Although federal administrative budget spending — which does not include Social Security and other trust funds — is scheduled to rise to perhaps as much as $108 billion, this will be partly offset by rising revenues. The official forecast still stands at $96.5 billion, but there seems little doubt that the actual figure will be higher.

Even with lower income tax rates and the excise tax cuts this past year, tax receipts are considerably higher than the previous year and they may top $100 billion for the fiscal year which ends next June 30.

The reason for the continued rise in tax revenues, despite income and excise rate cuts, is simple: there is more income to be taxed. Corporate profits have reached an annual rate of more than $75 billion compared to $55 billion in 1962. After taxes, corporate profits amount to more than $45 billion, a rise of more than 80 per cent since early 1961.

Personal income — which includes all types of payments to individuals — has grown from $416 billion in 1961 to more than $540 billion. The average weekly wage for a factory worker has increased from $88 to $108 in six years.

Attorney Retracts Claim Of Representing Soldier

A 32-year-old Columbus attorney backed down Friday night on an earlier statement attributed to him that he had been retained as civilian counsel for Sgt. George Smith of Chester, a Special Forces soldier charged with "aiding the enemy" during two years as a captive of the Viet Cong.

Thomas E. Klunk issued a new statement saying that he would "defend the soldier against possible charges" if he is asked to take the case.

In his first statement, Klunk claimed he had been retained to represent the 27-year-old soldier, son of Mrs. Lucille Potts of Carolina Ave., Chester.

But the first statement brought a prompt denial from Mrs. Potts and her husband, Thomas. Mrs. Potts said she had not retained Klunk and probably would hire a local lawyer if she felt the need of civilian counsel for her son. But she said for the moment she is putting her faith in Army lawyers.

Mrs. Potts said Klunk visited her without her invitation and asked to be retained, but she turned him down. She said he called her Friday to ask her permission to announce that he had been retained, but she again refused.

In his "explanation" of his first statement, Klunk denied that he had indicated to any newsmen that he had been retained to take the case if the Army presses charges against Smith.

He said he had talked with Smith's family about representing him if the case reaches the court martial stage.

Smith and Sgt. Claude McClure of Chattanooga, Tenn., were released near the Cambodian border last month after two years of Viet Cong captivity. At that time they were quoted as telling a press conference they opposed the U. S. Viet Nam position and intended to return to the U.S. and take part in peace demonstrations.

Currently, the two are in Okinawa, where the charges are being investigated to determine if a trial should be held.

Klunk said a Columbus friend of Smith's had contacted him on behalf of Smith's parents. He said he visited the parents in Chester Wednesday.

Hike In Steel Price Termed 'Inflationary'

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bethlehem Steel Corp. announced a $5-a-ton price increase on steel products Friday.

President Johnson's chief economic adviser called the action "inflationary and not in the public interest."

The action came while offices of most other steel producers were closed for New Year's Eve.

In announcing the increase, effective Saturday, Bethlehem said that because of the trend to lighter metals, the cost of equivalent steel framing for structures will remain less than five years ago.

The price boost affects about 7 per cent of the steel market.

The action recalled the confrontation in which President John F. Kennedy forced the industry to roll back a general price increase in 1962.

Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said in Washington that the price increase "does not appear to be justified under the council's guidepost, based on the information available to the government."

Ackley said 1965 has been an exceptionally good year for the steel industry. Bethlehem's profits after taxes for the first three quarters of 1965 were 83 per cent above 1963, he said. Bethlehem earned $155,463,000 in the first nine months of this year.

"For the year ahead," Ackley said, "prospects for the steel industry are once again extremely bright. Even at present prices, earnings should continue to rise in the prosperous and expanding economy which we have every reason to expect in 1966."

Steel demand is very high because of the booming automobile and construction industries.

Ackley said that although Bethlehem may have information to justify the increase, it has not been made available to the government or the public.

He added:

"While Americans are fighting and dying for freedom in Viet Nam, something extra is expected of the rest of us. Business and labor have particular responsibility to maintain stability of costs and prices."

A Bethlehem spokesman said the company had no comment on Ackley's statement.

Ackley also said the council was ready to talk with Bethlehem or any other steel company that might be contemplating similar action.

In Texas, press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Johnson was being kept informed and had been in touch with Ackley and Joseph A. Califano Jr., a presidential assistant.

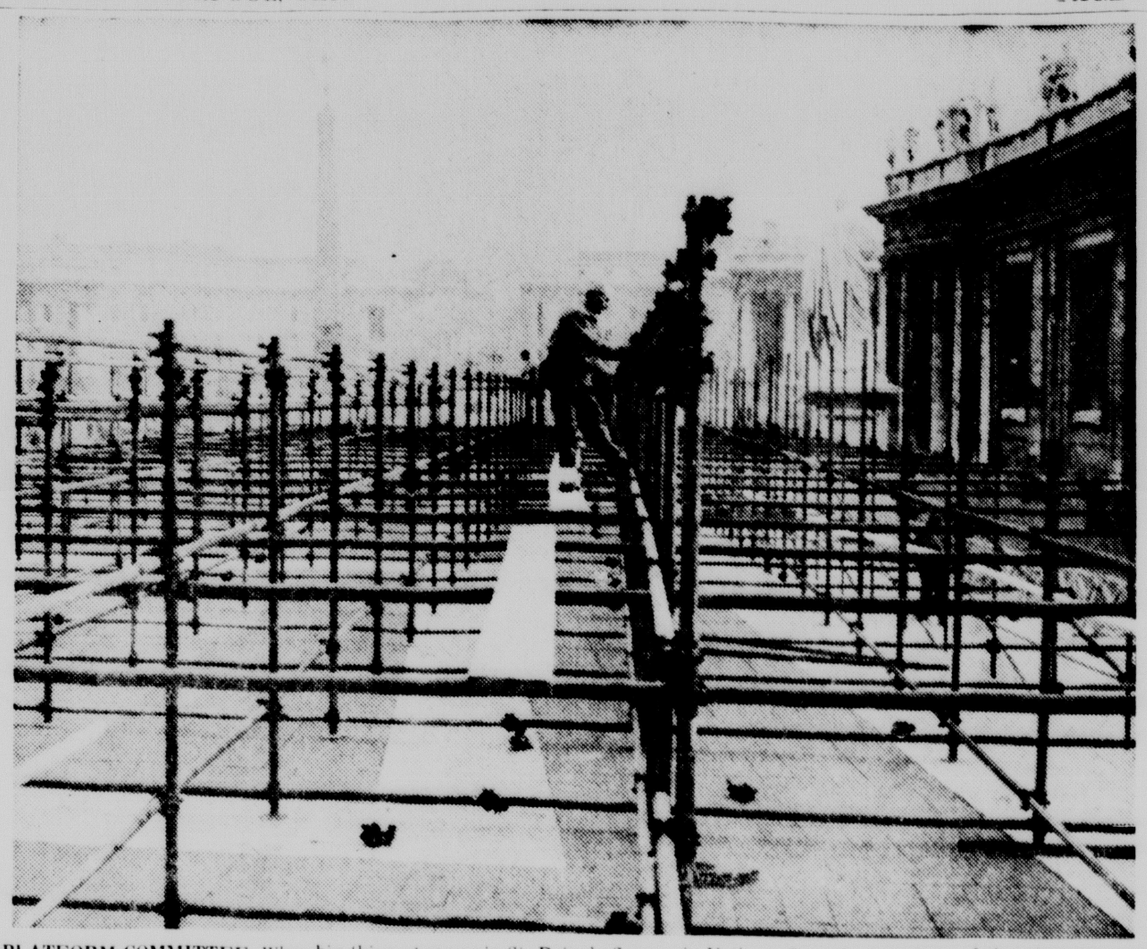

The Johnson administration recently forced the aluminum and copper industries to rescind price increases.

The steel price hike was on structural shapes and piling, and at $5 a ton amounted to about 3½ per cent.

At the same time, Bethlehem revised downward prices on "jumbo" sections used in unusually large structures. The company said these products were not a significant segment of the market.

Armco Steel Corp. said Bethlehem's boost caught it by surprise. Some other companies said they were studying the situation, but because if was New Year's Eve many officials could not be reached for comment.

Bank Robbed Of $10,000 In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Three armed men held up a downtown branch of the Mellon National Bank Friday and fled with about $10,000 in cash.

The trio entered the branch shortly before closing while only two tellers were on duty. One bandit held a gun on the tellers while the other went into their cages and scooped up all the cash from their drawers.

Bank officials told police the third man "sauntered" around and when a customer entered he stationed himself next to him until the robbery was over.

The three men fled in an auto parked nearby.

It was the 27th bank or loan company holdup in the Pittsburgh district during the year and the seventh in the downtown section.

Bank officials estimated the amount stolen.

Smoke Investigation Made By City Firemen

A smoke investigation and a false alarm occupied firemen on the final afternoon of 1965, boosting the number of alarms for the year to 294.

The department was called to the home of Mrs. J. E. Fulmer of S. Shady Ln. Dr. at 1:09 p.m. when an overheated furnace caused the house to fill with smoke.

Firemen were called to Monaca St. at 3:40 p. m. on the telephoned report of a fire but could find no blaze despite checking the entire street.

Acting Asst. Chief Frank Shone said a motorist apparently believed heavy smoke from a chimney was caused by a fire. The driver stopped at the Petrosol Service Station at Boyce St. and Pennsylvania Ave. to report a house on fire.

Spur Anti-U.S. Viet Policy, Ho Asks Americans

TOKYO (AP) — President Ho Chi Minh of Communist North Viet Nam in a New Year's message to the American people urged them today to step up a campaign against U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

"I warmly hail and sincerely thank the American people for their struggle to compel the U.S. Government to end the war of aggression against Viet Nam," he said.

"By so doing they also help prevent the lives of many young Americans from being uselessly sacrificed in an unjust war against Viet Nam, thousands of miles away from America.

"May the American people achieve new successes in their struggle for democracy, peace and happiness."

He reported Hanoi's demands for ending the Viet Nam war including the withdrawal of U.S. troops from South Viet Nam and declared "U.S. aggression has compelled the Vietnamese people to fight for the defense of independence and peace."

The message was broadcast by Radio Hanoi and monitored here. The broadcast did not say how and to whom the message was sent.

First Students Start First Leg Of Peak Climb

VAIL, Colo. (AP) — Four 21-year-old Holy Cross College seniors and a seasoned Colorado mountaineer left Friday on the first leg of an attempt to climb 14,059-foot Mt. Holy Cross.

There's no record of anyone having climbed this rugged central Colorado mountain in winter.

The students are Pat McDermott of Omaha, Peter Will of Dayton, Ohio and Peter Kenney and Edward Drinan, both of Boston, home of the college.

Jerry Sinkovec, alpinist and photographer for Vail Associates, operators of the Vail Ski Resort, is going along as a guide.

The five planned to stay at a base camp Friday night and leave about 6 a.m. Saturday on a snowshoe trip to the top of the peak, a climb of nearly 5,000 feet from the camp. They planned to plant a U. S. flag and to leave some mementoes at the summit.

The schedule called for the group to return to the base camp Saturday night.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Three armed men held up a downtown branch of the Mellon National Bank Friday and fled with about $10,000 in cash.

The trio entered the branch shortly before closing while only two tellers were on duty. One bandit held a gun on the tellers while the other went into their cages and scooped up all the cash from their drawers.

Bank officials told police the third man "sauntered" around and when a customer entered he stationed himself next to him until the robbery was over.

The three men fled in an auto parked nearby.

It was the 27th bank or loan company holdup in the Pittsburgh district during the year and the seventh in the downtown section.

Bank officials estimated the amount stolen.

Smoke Investigation Made By City Firemen

A smoke investigation and a false alarm occupied firemen on the final afternoon of 1965, boosting the number of alarms for the year to 294.

The department was called to the home of Mrs. J. E. Fulmer of S. Shady Ln. Dr. at 1:09 p.m. when an overheated furnace caused the house to fill with smoke.

Firemen were called to Monaca St. at 3:40 p. m. on the telephoned report of a fire but could find no blaze despite checking the entire street.

Acting Asst. Chief Frank Shone said a motorist apparently believed heavy smoke from a chimney was caused by a fire. The driver stopped at the Petrosol Service Station at Boyce St. and Pennsylvania Ave. to report a house on fire.

Spur Anti-U.S. Viet Policy, Ho Asks Americans

TOKYO (AP)—President Ho Chi Minh of Communist North Viet Nam in a New Year's message to the American people urged them today to step up a campaign against U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

"I warmly hail and sincerely thank the American people for their struggle to compel the U.S. Government to end the war of aggression against Viet Nam," he said.

"By so doing they also help prevent the lives of many young Americans from being uselessly sacrificed in an unjust war against Viet Nam, thousands of miles away from America.

"May the American people achieve new successes in their struggle for democracy, peace and happiness."

He reported Hanoi's demands for ending the Viet Nam war including the withdrawal of U.S. troops from South Viet Nam and declared "U.S. aggression has compelled the Vietnamese people to fight for the defense of independence and peace."

The message was broadcast by Radio Hanoi and monitored here. The broadcast did not say how and to whom the message was sent.

First Students Start First Leg Of Peak Climb

There's no record of anyone having climbed this rugged central Colorado mountain in winter.

The students are Pat McDermott of Omaha, Peter Will of Dayton, Ohio and Peter Kenney and Edward Drinan, both of Boston, home of the college.

Jerry Sinkovec, alpinist and photographer for Vail Associates, operators of the Vail Ski Resort, is going along as a guide.

The five planned to stay at a base camp Friday night and leave about 6 a.m. Saturday on a snowshoe trip to the top of the peak, a climb of nearly 5,000 feet from the camp. They planned to plant a U. S. flag and to leave some mementoes at the summit.

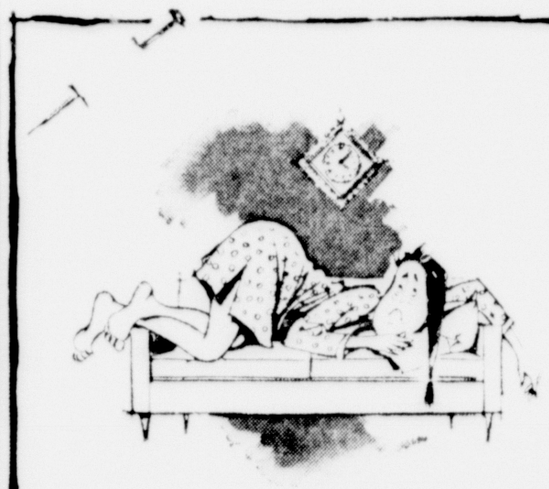

The schedule called for the group to return to the base camp Saturday night.

Many Changes In District

New Look For New Year

NOT in many years has the physical appearance of East Liverpool and other areas of the Tri-State District been changed or scheduled to undergo further change than in 1965.

The sound of the "headache ball" razing old buildings and bulldozers clearing land and the smell of concrete and tar have been a part of more neighborhoods in the past year than in a decade.

New motels, a diner and other projects along E. 3rd St. made that area unrecognizable after 12 months. Outer St. Clair Ave. became a smooth, pleasant boulevard in 1965.

Calcutta now has a shopping center, Chester and New Cumberland have new post offices and Salineville has a new supermarket.

Construction continues on a multitude of projects—from the City Hospital wing, new Ohio State Employment Service building, Kroger store and Gaston Pl. apartments to the third Freeway Extension and Crucible Steel Co.'s multi-million dollar continuous casting plant.

Scheduled for construction next year are some of the city's long delayed school building and a new post office.

BUT THE CHANGE in appearance was not the only improvement or growth during the year.

Establishment of Kent State's Academic Center here, serving some 260 students, was a major addition to the district's education facilities and an economic asset for drawing new residents and new industry here.

Initial reports on the planning surveys of the downtown business district and housing pinpointed some of East Liverpool's problems and produced some creative ideas for solutions. Completion of the comprehensive study next year will spell out more clearly our needs and the guidelines for fulfilling them.

The past year has been one of the most prosperous since World War II. Despite slackening of production at the Crucible Steel Co. in recent weeks, officials of the firm look forward to another favorable year.

The hunting pressure is off. Deer season has ended in Ohio and adjoining states while Pennsylvania's winter small game season closes at 5 p.m. today.

Many hunters in this area now will sit back and relax until next year. But Ohio's rabbit season is open on both public and private lands through Jan. 29, while ruffed grouse may be hunted until Feb. 26.

Now would be a good time to take to the field in search of rabbits, for there still are quite a few around. It would give you an opportunity to try out some of the new equipment you received for Christmas.

Hunters finding flat worms and small white flicks inside rabbits they have shot should not be alarmed. Information from the Ohio Division of Wildlife says these are internal parasites and in all probability are tape worms. These are killed by proper cooking.

About one out of three rabbits have tape worms. You should not permit your dogs to eat the entrails of dressed game because the parasites can be passed on to them. A good idea is to hang them up on the limb of a nearby tree after having field dressed the game. Crows and other scavengers will take care of the rest.

PAUL SAROSSY, CHIEF of the Ohio Division of Watercraft, has announced that an apparent solution to the Ohio River boundary problem has been reached with the state of Kentucky.

Although the legal question remains unresolved, Sarossy said a workable agreement has been achieved. Kentucky officials interpret the law to read that all of the Ohio River belongs to the state of Kentucky. In the past, when Kentucky officers found a boat with Ohio registration listing the place of principal use as the Ohio River, they issued a citation.

The new 1966 Ohio watercraft certificates will omit the "Ohio River" designation by referring only to the state of principal use, which is all that the Federal Boating Act regulations require.

Sarossy said it is believed that Kentucky officers should no longer be obligated to arrest Ohio boaters on the registration charge.

IF YOU PLAN ON going ice fishing—and from the weather we have been having that's a big "if"—there are several regulations you should be aware of.

The more important are that the holes in the ice should not be more than 12 inches in diameter, not more that six tip-ups can be used by one fisherman, and fishing shanties or shelters placed on the ice in the Lake Erie or Inland Fishing Districts have to bear the name and mailing address of the owner in legible letters in the English language.

Each tip-up must have a waterproof tag showing the user's name and address. It also is unlawful to litter the ice with debris. Fishermen are required to carry and exhibit their 1965 fishing license, which will expire Feb. 28, 1966.

OHIO WILL RECEIVE approximately $360,000 as its share of the final apportionment of the Federal Aid in Fish and Wildlife Restoration Acts funds for the fiscal year. The total apportionment for the year was $694,746.

The funds come from federal excise taxes imposed on sporting arms and ammunition and certain fishing equipment items. The federal government reimburses the states up to 75 per cent of the state's costs for work on jointly approved projects concerned with the acquisition and development of lands, the restoration of natural environment and the research into problems of fish and wildlife management.

Distribution is made on the basis of the number of paid fishing and hunting license holders and the land area of each state as compared to all other states.

L. JAMES BASHLINE of Camp Hill has been named editor of the Pennsylvania Game News magazine. The vacancy was created when George H. Harrison accepted the post of managing editor of National Wildlife magazine.

A film, "Renaissance of a River," is available for loan from the Pennsylvania Game Commission at Harrisburg. The 21-minute color film deals with recreational opportunities available in the Susquehanna watershed area. Direct your inquiries to the commission's Information and Education Division.

OHIO WILDLIFE officials are seeking data on grouse. Hunters may help by providing the wing and tail from each bird they bag. Call your game protector for a special self-addressed envelope.

Fill in the information on the back and mail the wing and tail. Game biologists can obtain sex and age data from these parts and compile an index on the number of grouse and hatching success.

IF YOU ARE MAKING any resolutions for the coming year, why don't you resolve to teach some young boy the art of hunting and fishing. In return, you'll gain much enjoyment. The youngster also might interest his father in the sports and you may have another friend to go along on those outdoor trips.

We all can resolve to do more to aid conservation, cement relationships with landowners and help keep the countryside free of litter.

Some of the many beautiful spots along our creeks and lakes are marred by dumps. This is not good for hunting or fishing.

I wish you all a prosperous New Year in the field.

Rhyme For Father Time

Some New Year's Greetings...

Welcome Nineteen Sixty-Six,
We hope you'll not be full of tricks,
As was your forebear, Sixty-Five,
When gridiron fortunes took a dive.

When new school plans met more delay,
And postal sites got no OK,
Sunday sales went into court,
Hair grew long and skirts grew short.

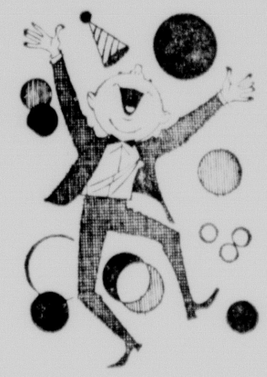

We hope for better things from you,
But think your theme song may be blue,
The outlook is not very cheerful,
Our district's problems make an earful:

But time will bring its share of joy,
In '66 girl will meet boy,
New car's we'll get, a raise in pay,
A baby's laugh, a holiday.

So we must pin our faith on you,
With luck I guess we'll muddle through,
And here's a toast to things to come,
Toot the trumpet, bash the drum.

Good fortune to our Kent State U.,
May all its students fame accrue,
Hail to Hans Hacker and his oils,
Hurrah for helpful Camp Fire goils,

(County home, airport sites,
Smoke control, labor fights,
Traffic jams, bingo games,
Hancock gambling, strip mine shames,)

Health to Don Gosney, Charlie Pike,
And to the Turks-Rebekah, Mike,
Blessings on our pastor friends,
For Crucible more dividends.

Happy Days to Robert Boyce,
To Ernie Lowe, a coughless voice;
For Donald Eckert, better planning,
Faster running for Gregg Manning.

For our St. Clair colleagues—water,
For our girl-less dads—a daughter,
For Waterford's winless fans—a double (?),
To enemies of Frank Potts—trouble!

Renewed success to Kuzma's lads,
And Pony League's hard-playing tads,
May Senior Citizens fare well,
And bee contenders calmly spell.

Gay times to Mary Catherine Brady,
Alex Kidd, Bill Spires, Bob Beatty,
Peace to George Willshaw et al.,
Harold Dickey, Eugene Hall.

The best to Tom Leek, Carl Pelini,
Paul McGeehan, Ang Cellini,
To our Myrtles—Strabley, Miller;
Paul Walton, former newsroom pillar.

To Rowland Kaufman, T. Scafide,
Fraser Jackson and Dike Beede,
H. Jud English and please let us
Not forget J. Warren Bettis.

The bird of paradise should smile,
On residents of Babb's Isle,
And may it unload birdly pearls
On mufflerless motorscooter churls.

We hope the future means us well,
If sadness comes, let it dispel;
If sickness, may it soon be gone;
If crabgrass, let it miss our lawn . . .

Thus we sound the bells to greet,
The new year on Time's endless street,
Be thankful for each hour we live,
Let us deserve what God may give!

You And The Law

When Tom received his liquor license he was certain that the added trade it would bring would more than save his lagging restaurant business. He did not, however, intend to follow all the rules and regulations that are imposed on a liquor permitholder.

In his operation, Tom didn't waste anything. Today's hash became tomorrow's "hash supreme," and the next day's "meatloaf au grande," etc. He decided to do the same thing with his liquor.

WHEN A bottle of "Old Steamwhistle," one of the better brands, was about empty, Tom would add a bit of a cheaper brand — and up his profits. Such dilution would never be noticed, he felt.

One day, however, two agents from the State Department of Liquor Control entered Tom's bar and asked for a bottle from his open stock so that its contents could be checked.

"Wait a minute," Tom protested, "you can't do that. I haven't done anything wrong. You can't just go around checking my liquor just for the sake of checking."

"Sorry, but you're wrong there, Tom," one agent said. "By accepting that permit you also agreed to reasonable inspection and examination of your premises and stock for compliance with the Liquor Control Act."

THE AGENTS sealed the bottles in Tom's presence, gave him a receipt and sent the materials to the laboratory for checking—where the mixing was promptly discovered.

For his brand of "mixed drinks," Tom's permit was suspended and his restaurant went back to "dry" state. Instead of making more money he now is losing it.

Ohio law strictly regulates the sale and dispensing of liquor. State agents are in the field constantly checking to protect the honest permitholder and to see that the customer gets what he orders.

The recipe for this dessert treat was sent in by Mrs. Ola Weaver, 902 Phoenix Ave., Chester.

The hunting pressure is off. Deer season has ended in Ohio and adjoining states while Pennsylvania's winter small game season closes at 5 p.m. today.

Many hunters in this area now will sit back and relax until next year. But Ohio's rabbit season is open on both public and private lands through Jan. 29, while ruffed grouse may be hunted until Feb. 26.

Now would be a good time to take to the field in search of rabbits, for there still are quite a few around. It would give you an opportunity to try out some of the new equipment you received for Christmas.

Hunters finding flat worms and small white flicks inside rabbits they have shot should not be alarmed. Information from the Ohio Division of Wildlife says these are internal parasites and in all probability are tape worms. These are killed by proper cooking.

About one out of three rabbits have tape worms. You should not permit your dogs to eat the entrails of dressed game because the parasites can be passed on to them. A good idea is to hang them up on the limb of a nearby tree after having field dressed the game. Crows and other scavengers will take care of the rest.

PAUL SAROSSY, CHIEF of the Ohio Division of Watercraft, has announced that an apparent solution to the Ohio River boundary problem has been reached with the state of Kentucky.

Although the legal question remains unresolved, Sarossy said a workable agreement has been achieved. Kentucky officials interpret the law to read that all of the Ohio River belongs to the state of Kentucky. In the past, when Kentucky officers found a boat with Ohio registration listing the place of principal use as the Ohio River, they issued a citation.

The new 1966 Ohio watercraft certificates will omit the "Ohio River" designation by referring only to the state of principal use, which is all that the Federal Boating Act regulations require.

Sarossy said it is believed that Kentucky officers should no longer be obligated to arrest Ohio boaters on the registration charge.

IF YOU PLAN ON going ice fishing—and from the weather we have been having that's a big "if"—there are several regulations you should be aware of.

The more important are that the holes in the ice should not be more than 12 inches in diameter, not more that six tip-ups can be used by one fisherman, and fishing shanties or shelters placed on the ice in the Lake Erie or Inland Fishing Districts have to bear the name and mailing address of the owner in legible letters in the English language.

Each tip-up must have a waterproof tag showing the user's name and address. It also is unlawful to litter the ice with debris. Fishermen are required to carry and exhibit their 1965 fishing license, which will expire Feb. 28, 1966.

OHIO WILL RECEIVE approximately $360,000 as its share of the final apportionment of the Federal Aid in Fish and Wildlife Restoration Acts funds for the fiscal year. The total apportionment for the year was $694,746.

The funds come from federal excise taxes imposed on sporting arms and ammunition and certain fishing equipment items. The federal government reimburses the states up to 75 per cent of the state's costs for work on jointly approved projects concerned with the acquisition and development of lands, the restoration of natural environment and the research into problems of fish and wildlife management.

Distribution is made on the basis of the number of paid fishing and hunting license holders and the land area of each state as compared to all other states.

L. JAMES BASHLINE of Camp Hill has been named editor of the Pennsylvania Game News magazine. The vacancy was created when George H. Harrison accepted the post of managing editor of National Wildlife magazine.

A film, "Renaissance of a River," is available for loan from the Pennsylvania Game Commission at Harrisburg. The 21-minute color film deals with recreational opportunities available in the Susquehanna watershed area. Direct your inquiries to the commission's Information and Education Division.

OHIO WILDLIFE officials are seeking data on grouse. Hunters may help by providing the wing and tail from each bird they bag. Call your game protector for a special self-addressed envelope.

Fill in the information on the back and mail the wing and tail. Game biologists can obtain sex and age data from these parts and compile an index on the number of grouse and hatching success.

IF YOU ARE MAKING any resolutions for the coming year, why don't you resolve to teach some young boy the art of hunting and fishing. In return, you'll gain much enjoyment. The youngster also might interest his father in the sports and you may have another friend to go along on those outdoor trips.

We all can resolve to do more to aid conservation, cement relationships with landowners and help keep the countryside free of litter.

Some of the many beautiful spots along our creeks and lakes are marred by dumps. This is not good for hunting or fishing.

I wish you all a prosperous New Year in the field.

Rhyme For Father Time

Some New Year's Greetings...

Welcome Nineteen Sixty-Six,
We hope you'll not be full of tricks,
As was your forebear, Sixty-Five,
When gridiron fortunes took a dive.

When new school plans met more delay,
And postal sites got no OK,
Sunday sales went into court,
Hair grew long and skirts grew short.

We hope for better things from you,
But think your theme song may be blue,
The outlook is not very cheerful,
Our district's problems make an earful:

But time will bring its share of joy,
In '66 girl will meet boy;
New car's we'll get, a raise in pay,
A baby's laugh, a holiday.

So we must pin our faith on you,
With luck I guess we'll muddle through,
And here's a toast to things to come,
Toot the trumpet, bash the drum.

Good fortune to our Kent State U.,
May all its students fame accrue,
Hail to Hans Hacker and his oils,
Hurrah for helpful Camp Fire goils,

(County home, airport sites,
Smoke control, labor fights,
Traffic jams, bingo games,
Hancock gambling, strip mine shames,)

Health to Don Gosney, Charlie Pike,
And to the Turks-Rebekah, Mike;
Blessings on our pastor friends,
For Crucible-more dividends.

Happy Days to Robert Boyce,
To Ernie Lowe, a coughless voice;
For Donald Eckert, better planning,
Faster running for Gregg Manning.

For our St. Clair colleagues—water,
For our girl-less dads—a daughter,
For Waterford's winless fans—a double (?),
To enemies of Frank Potts—trouble!

Renewed success to Kuzma's lads,
And Pony League's hard-playing tads,
May Senior Citizens fare well,
And bee contenders calmly spell.

Gay times to Mary Catherine Brady,
Alex Kidd, Bill Spires, Bob Beatty,
Peace to George Willshaw et al,
Harold Dickey, Eugene Hall.

The best to Tom Leek, Carl Pelini,
Paul McGeehan, Ang Cellini,
To our Myrtles—Strabley, Miller;
Paul Walton, former newsroom pillar.

To Rowland Kaufman, T. Scafide,
Fraser Jackson and Dike Beede,
H. Jud English and please let us
Not forget J. Warren Bettis.

The bird of paradise should smile,
On residents of Babb's Isle,
And may it unload birdly pearls
On mufflerless motorscooter churls.

We hope the future means us well,
If sadness comes, let it dispel;
If sickness, may it soon be gone;
If crabgrass, let it miss our lawn...

Thus we sound the bells to greet,
The new year on Time's endless street,
Be thankful for each hour we live,
Let us deserve what God may give!

You And The Law

When Tom received his liquor license he was certain that the added trade it would bring would more than save his lagging restaurant business. He did not, however, intend to follow all the rules and regulations that are imposed on a liquor permitholder.

In his operation, Tom didn't waste anything. Today's hash became tomorrow's "hash supreme," and the next day's "meatloaf au grande," etc. He decided to do the same thing with his liquor.

WHEN A bottle of "Old Steamwhistle," one of the better brands, was about empty, Tom would add a bit of a cheaper brand — and up his profits. Such dilution would never be noticed, he felt.

One day, however, two agents from the State Department of Liquor Control entered Tom's bar and asked for a bottle from his open stock so that its contents could be checked.

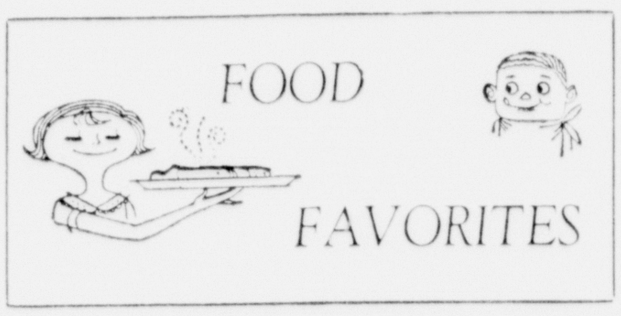

"Wait a minute," Tom protested, "you can't do that. I haven't done anything wrong. You can't just go around checking my liquor just for the sake of checking."

"Sorry, but you're wrong there, Tom," one agent said. "By accepting that permit you also agreed to reasonable inspection and examination of your premises and stock for compliance with the Liquor Control Act."

THE AGENTS sealed the bottles in Tom's presence, gave him a receipt and sent the materials to the laboratory for checking—where the mixing was promptly discovered.

For his brand of "mixed drinks," Tom's permit was suspended and his restaurant went back to "dry" state. Instead of making more money he now is losing it.

Ohio law strictly regulates the sale and dispensing of liquor. State agents are in the field constantly checking to protect the honest permitholder and to see that the customer gets what he orders.

The recipe for this dessert treat was sent in by Mrs. Ola Weaver, 902 Phoenix Ave., Chester.

Texas Tech Falls Down On Defense

By WILL GRIMSLEY

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A pair of flashy sophomores, Kim King and Lenny Snow, matched the glitter of Texas Tech's $600,000 halfback, Donny Anderson, and paced Georgia Tech to an upset 31-21 victory over the Red Raiders Friday in the 21st Gator Bowl football game.

Anderson set a post-game news conference at which he was expected to announce that he was signing with the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League for better than one-half million dollars. The Houston Oilers of the rival American League said earlier they had offered him $887,000.

Snow slithered and scooted to more than 100 yards rushing. King, as left-handed passer and ball-carrier, added imagination to the Georgia Tech attack.

Jerry Priestley, King's understudy, put Georgia Tech ahead 22-21 with a one-yard plunge at the start of the last period and added a two-point conversion on a fake pass and run. Shortly afterwards, defensive back, Tommy Bleik, intercepted a soaring pass by Texas Tech's Tom Wilson and a moment later Ed Varner ran 13 yards for the final score.

Anderson, the 215-pound, two-time All-America, played a superb game, making leaping one-handed stabs of passes and running with power, but his team lacked the iron ribs of defense to halt Georgia Tech's attack.

Anderson played the role of both goat and hero. He fumbled a kickoff in the second period, ultimately setting up a Georgia Tech safety.

Western Tops TCU By 13-12 In Sun Bowl

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Sophomore quarterback Billy Stevens found his passing magic in the second half and carried Texas Western to 13-12 Sun Bowl football victory over Texas Christian Friday.

Stevens, voted the game's most valuable player, completed 21 passes for 208 yards in 34 attempts and passed for one touchdown.

Texas Christian's Horned Frogs took a 10-0 halftime lead but gave way to Stevens' passing after the intermission.

Western took a 13-10 lead early in the fourth quarter on Joe Cook's second field goal, a 20-yarder.

Texas Christian came within field goal range twice in the final period. One late Horned Frog drive was stopped when Western's Curt Parsons intercepted a Kent Nix pass on the Western one with 1:33 remaining.

Then Stevens, after three futile line plunges, took the snap from center on fourth down and ran into the Western end zone to give Texas Christian an intentional two-point safety, making it 13-12.

Texas Western fullback Don Davis punted to the Texas Christian three with 36 seconds to play. Time ran out after three Horned Frog plays.

Garrett Set To Sign With Kansas City

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Heisman Trophy winner Mike Garrett of Southern California said Friday he would sign a professional contract with the Kansas City Chiefs of the American Football League.

The All-American halfback, also a draft choice of the Los Angeles Rams of the rival National Football League, made the announcement on national television at halftime of the annual East-West Shrine game.

Garrett was the Rams' No. 2 draft choice and a 20th round selection by the Chiefs.

Easing Of Schedule Urged For Air Force

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has received a recommendation that the Air Force Academy schedule football games only with schools maintaining similar academic and athletic standards.

This was interpreted to suggest no scheduling of games with some of the collegiate football powers that perhaps are better known for their gridiron talents than for academic excellence.

Spartans Need Win For National Title

Pros Wait In Wings With Bankrolls

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

College football's top team will win the national championship New Year's Day and several of college football's top players will pick up instant bankrolls.

First-ranked Michigan State heads the list of the country's six leading teams which will see action in the big bowl extravaganzas.

The Spartans of the Big Ten will face fifth-ranked UCLA in the most glamorous of the spectacles — the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.

Arkansas, rated No. 2 and with a 22-game winning streak, takes on Louisiana State in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas. Third-ranked Nebraska and fourth-ranked Alabama tangle in the Orange Bowl at Miami, and sixth-ranked Missouri plays Florida in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

Michigan State, Arkansas and Nebraska, all 10-0, and Alabama, 8-1-1, are front-runners for the national title, which will be decided in a post-Jan. 1 poll of The Associated Press' panel of experts.

But before New Year's Day is over a highly prized group of young men will become wealthy young men by the get-rich-quick process of signing pro contracts.

Probably the top catch among those eligible to sign after bowl games is Johnny Roland, Missouri's versatile halfback. His reported price tag is $500,000, with the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League and the New York Jets of the American Football League holding draft rights.

Other stars in the bonus scramble are defensive lineman Hal Lucas of Michigan State; ends Tony Jeter and Freeman White and defensive lineman Walt Barnes of Nebraska; tackle Glen Ray Hines and halfback Jim Lindsey of Arkansas; tackles Francis Peay and Butch Allison of Missouri; tackle George Rice of LSU; and guard Larry Gagner and tackle Randy Jackson of Florida.

Michigan State opened its all-winning season with a 13-3 victory over UCLA and is heavily favored to roll over the Bruins in the Rose Bowl. Lucas anchors a solid defense for the Spartans, whose strong attack is engineered by All-America quarterback Steve Juday and sparked by halfback Clint Jones.

Arkansas also is a heavy favorite to win its second straight Cotton Bowl game, with the versatile Razorback offense rated too much for LSU to handle. Quarterback Jon Brittenum and halfback Bobby Burnett are the Arkansas standouts on attack. LSU's Tigers take a 7-3 record into the game.

The huge Nebraska Cornhuskers and the lean Alabamans are expected to put on a close fight in the Orange Bowl Saturday night, with 'Bama the slight choice. Experts figure the Crimson Tide has the quickness to overcome Nebraska's big edge in size.

The Missouri-Florida match at New Orleans also shapes up as a tight one. The Tigers from the Big Eight, 7-2-1, field a tough defense and a diversified offense led by quarterback Gary Lane. Florida, 7-3, depends heavily on the passing of Steve Spurrier, whose prime target has been All-America Charlie Casey.

All four of the New Year's bowl games will be nationally televised, with NBC-TV's coverage on a virtual non-stop basis. That network will carry the Sugar Bow, starting at 2 p.m. EST, the Rose Bowl, at 5 p.m., and the Orange Bowl, at 8 p.m. CBS-TV will have the Cotton Bowl, starting at 2 p.m.

Washington Passer Hits For 3 TD's

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Washington quarterback Ted Hullin fired three touchdown passes to bring the underdog West a 22-7 victory over the East Friday in the 41st annual East-West football game.

The 190-pounder from Seattle, who won his starting job during the past week of practice, connected on a 42-yard pass to Arizona State's Ben Hawkins, a four-yard pitch to Gary Garrison of San Diego State and a nine-yarder to Ron Sbranti of Utah State.

Hullin's first two scoring throws came in the final two minutes of the first half to put the West on top after trailing 7-3.

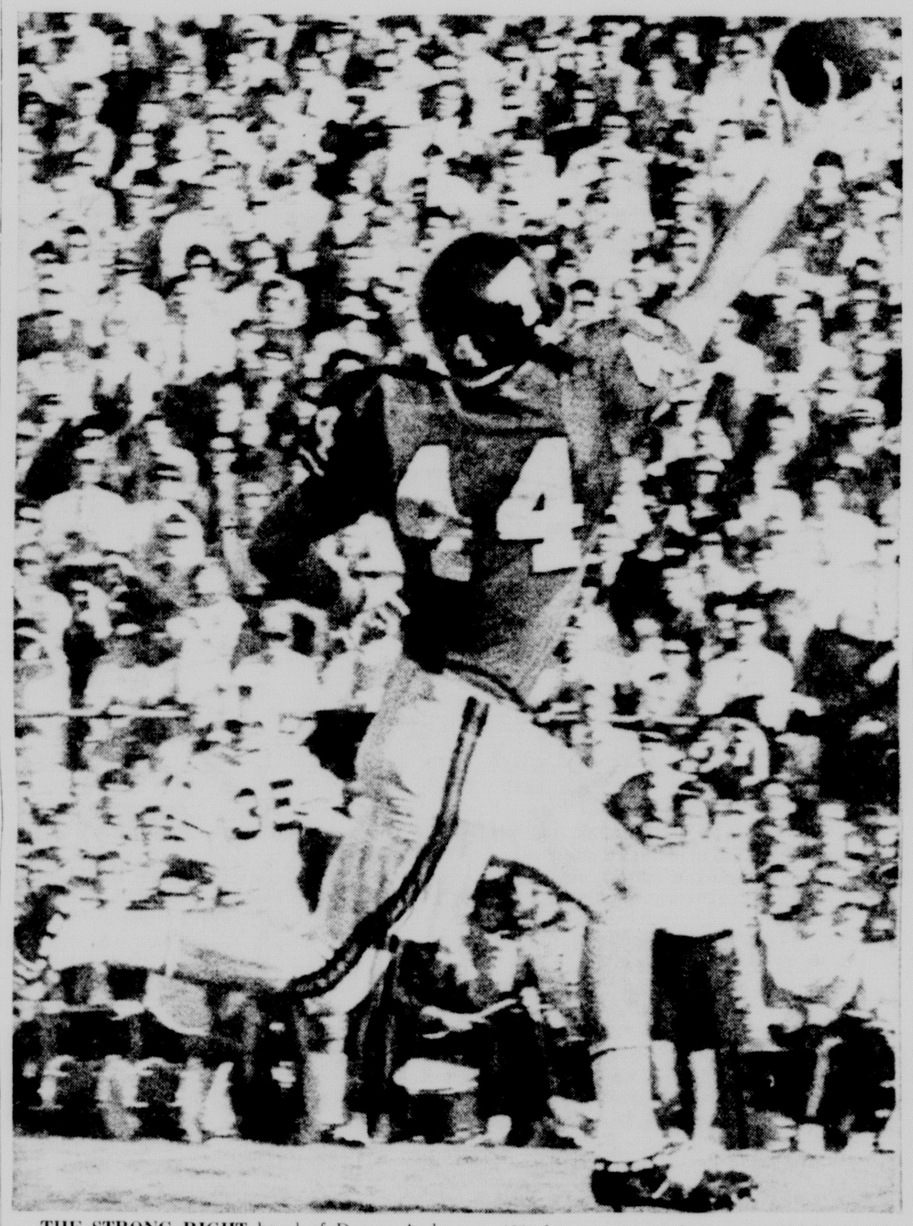

A crowd of 56,121 watched in sunny, chilly weather at Kezar Stadium as the big West defenders checked Illinois' All-America Jim Grabowski, the chief running threat for the East.

Quarterback John Hankinson drew first blood for the East when he hit his University of Minnesota teammate Aaron Brown on a 32-yard scoring pass in the opening quarter. Ken Ivan of Notre Dame kicked the conversion.

Texas Tech Star Picks Green Bay

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. AP — Donny Anderson, Texas Tech's All-America halfback, signed a contract with the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League Friday for a reported $600,000, believed to be the most money ever given a college football player.

The 215-pound all-purpose player insisted on making the announcement personally at a midtown hotel.

Bud Adams, president of the Houston Oilers of the American League, said earlier he had offered Anderson an $887,000 package, which included a $200,000 home in Houston, $16,000 worth of furniture and a $36,000 swimming pool.

"I know that Green Bay's offer was $200,000 less than ours," Adams said.

Anderson was the No. 1 draft choice of the Packers and the Oilers a year ago when he was selected as a future choice.

Anderson was voted his team's outstanding player Friday in the Gator Bowl football game won by Georgia Tech 31-21.

He made two sensational one-handed catches which led to touchdowns, scored one touchdown and showed a lot of power in carrying the ball.

For the 1st two years as an All-America he has been the country's top offensive performer, as a runner, pass receiver and kick returner.

The $600,000 figure for Anderson exceeds the $427,000 contract given to last year's top-priced signee, Alabama quarterback Joe Namath, who signed with the New York Jets of the AFL.

However, there have been unconfirmed reports that Illinois fullback Jim Grabowski who also signed with Green Bay, and Texas linebacker Tommy Nobis, who signed with Atlanta of the NFL, received contracts that might be in the same neighborhood as Anderson's.

The unconfirmed reports have listed Nobis as receiving as much as $700,000 and Grabowski as much as $625,000.

Orange Bowl Seen As High Scoring Game

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Once-beaten Alabama pits its quick-striking offense against the heavier, unbeaten Nebraska Cornhuskers Saturday night in what looms as a high-scoring Orange Bowl football game.

The fourth-ranked Crimson Tide, 8-1-1, is a slight favorite to defeat third-ranked Nebraska, 10-0.

The game will be televised nationally by NBC starting at 8 p.m., EST.

"It'll take four touchdowns to win the game and I believe we'll win it," predicted Carl Selmer, Nebraska's line coach. Neither head coach, Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama nor Bob Devaney of Nebraska would predict the outcome.

The Tide will be counting on the passing wizardry of Steve Sloan to offset Nebraska's heft and fine running game. The Cornhuskers led the nation in rushing yardage with an average of almost 290 yards a game. Their huge defensive line enabled them to place seventh in the country in defense.

Alabama, which topped the Southeastern Conference for the second straight year, has a balanced offense that rolled up an average of 167.4 yards rushing and 147.9 passing.

Spartans Picked By 2 Touchdowns

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Michigan State, the unbeaten, untied Goliaths of the Big Ten, and UCLA, the little Davids of the West Coast, collide New Year's Day in the 52nd annual Rose Bowl football game.

The weather and condition of the playing field figure to be factors but the Spartans from East Lansing, led by All-America quarterback Steve Juday, are solid favorites to win by two touchdowns or more. Sunny weather, however, was forecast.

The Bruins of UCLA, champions of the Pacific Athletic Conference, won seven, lost two and tied one, and their first loss of the college season was to Michigan State at East Lansing, 13-3.

Leader of the Bruins is adventurous Gary Beban, who may well be the finest sophomore quarterback in recent years and a dangerous man on the pass-run option play.

A soggy field from the heavy rains earlier this week will not be a complete novelty to either team.

Barring bad weather, attendance is expected to be around capacity of 100,807.

Kickoff time is 5 p.m., EST. NBC will televise the game for the nation in color.

Arkansas Attempts To Pad 23rd Straight With Cotton

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Arkansas seeks its 23rd straight victory, second bowl triumph in a row and a possible national football championship Saturday when it sends its high stepping offense against Louisiana State's embattled Tigers in the Cotton Bowl.

The Southwest Conference's representative has won the Cotton Bowl two years straight but it is interesting to note that the last time the conference's team failed it was against this same Louisiana State.

That was 1963 when an underdog Louisiana State rose up to whip one of Texas' finest teams 13-0.

Arkansas will be a 10-point favorite when it takes the field against the Tigers, who have a 7-3 record but a stronger offense than the 1963 team.

The Razorbacks started the week with a nine-point bulge but it had advanced to 10 Friday. Prospects of good weather — cold and dry — may have influenced the rise.

The Cotton Bowl game is scheduled for 2 p.m. EST with a sellout 75,504 and CBS TV.

Arkansas has averaged 360.3 yards on offense and Coach Frank Broyles admits it has more weapons with which to score than any other Razorback outfit.

Louisiana State isn't exactly impotent on offense, however. Joe LaBruzzo, a 5-9, 170-pounder leads a bruising ground attack that gouged 2,077 yards out of 10 enemy lines. LaBruzzo, in addition to running for 509 yards, caught 15 passes for 167, ran 15 punts back 284 and returned 10 kickoffs for 218 yards.

Lucky Debonair Returns Today In Malibu Stakes

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Lucky Debonair, the 1965 winner of the Kentucky and Santa Anita derbies, returns to the race track Saturday as the top horse in the $25,000-added Malibu Stakes.

The 7-furlong Malibu is half of a New Year's Day racing double header. The other is the $25,000 - added San Gabriel Handicap at 1⅛ miles over the grass course.

The Malibu, restricted to newly turned 4-year-olds, marks the first appearance of Lucky Debonair since he injured himself in the Preakness at Pimlico last May 15.

Running for Mrs. Ada L. Rice, Lucky Debonair and 10 rivals will use the Malibu as a tune-up for the $100,000-added Charles H. Strub Stakes Jan. 29.

Rated as the leading threats to Lucky Debonair are Bold Bidder, Terry's Secret and Royal Gunner.

Others entered in the Malibu were Carpenter's Rule, Blue Surge, Hasty Trip, Arksroni, Sir Bolco, Old Mose and Hoist Bar.

Lucky Debonair, with Bill Shoemaker slated for the ride, will carry high weight of 126 pounds.

Lettermen Bob Duerr, a senior from Canton Ohio, and Jack Brunner, a junior from Guttenberg, N.J., are the only out-of-state athletes on the St. John's basketball team of Long Island.

Shortly afterwards, defensive back, Tommy Bleik, intercepted a soaring pass by Texas Tech's Tom Wilson and a moment later Ed Varner ran 13 yards for the final score.

Anderson, the 215-pound, two-time All-America, played a superb game, making leaping one-handed stabs of passes and running with power, but his team lacked the iron ribs of defense to halt Georgia Tech's attack.

Anderson played the role of both goat and hero. He fumbled a kickoff in the second period, ultimately setting up a Georgia Tech safety.

Western Tops TCU By 13-12 In Sun Bowl

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Sophomore quarterback Billy Stevens found his passing magic in the second half and carried Texas Western to 13-12 Sun Bowl football victory over Texas Christian Friday.

Stevens, voted the game's most valuable player, completed 21 passes for 208 yards in 34 attempts and passed for one touchdown.

Texas Christian's Horned Frogs took a 10-0 halftime lead but gave way to Stevens' passing after the intermission.

Western took a 13-10 lead early in the fourth quarter on Joe Cook's second field goal, a 20-yarder.

Texas Christian came within field goal range twice in the final period. One late Horned Frog drive was stopped when Western's Curt Parsons intercepted a Kent Nix pass on the Western one with 1:33 remaining.

Then Stevens, after three futile line plunges, took the snap from center on fourth down and ran into the Western end zone to give Texas Christian an intentional two-point safety, making it 13-12.

Texas Western fullback Don Davis punted to the Texas Christian three with 36 seconds to play. Time ran out after three Horned Frog plays.

Garrett Set To Sign With Kansas City

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Heisman Trophy winner Mike Garrett of Southern California said Friday he would sign a professional contract with the Kansas City Chiefs of the American Football League.

The All-American halfback, also a draft choice of the Los Angeles Rams of the rival National Football League, made the announcement on national television at halftime of the annual East-West Shrine game.

Garrett was the Rams' No. 2 draft choice and a 20th round selection by the Chiefs.

Easing Of Schedule Urged For Air Force

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has received a recommendation that the Air Force Academy schedule football games only with schools maintaining similar academic and athletic standards.

This was interpreted to suggest no scheduling of games with some of the collegiate football powers that perhaps are better known for their gridiron talents than for academic excellence.

Spartans Need Win For National Title

Pros Wait In Wings With Bankrolls

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

College football's top team will win the national championship New Year's Day and several of college football's top players will pick up instant bankrolls.

First-ranked Michigan State heads the list of the country's six leading teams which will see action in the big bowl extravaganzas.

The Spartans of the Big Ten will face fifth-ranked UCLA in the most glamorous of the spectacles — the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.

Arkansas, rated No. 2 and with a 22-game winning streak, takes on Louisiana State in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas. Third-ranked Nebraska and fourth-ranked Alabama tangle in the Orange Bowl at Miami, and sixth-ranked Missouri plays Florida in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

Michigan State, Arkansas and Nebraska, all 10-0, and Alabama, 8-1-1, are front-runners for the national title, which will be decided in a post-Jan. 1 poll of The Associated Press' panel of experts.

But before New Year's Day is over a highly prized group of young men will become wealthy young men by the get-rich-quick process of signing pro contracts.

Probably the top catch among those eligible to sign after bowl games is Johnny Roland, Missouri's versatile halfback. His reported price tag is $500,000, with the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League and the New York Jets of the American Football League holding draft rights.

Other stars in the bonus scramble are defensive lineman Hal Lucas of Michigan State; ends Tony Jeter and Freeman White and defensive lineman Walt Barnes of Nebraska; tackle Glen Ray Hines and halfback Jim Lindsey of Arkansas; tackles Francis Peay and Butch Allison of Missouri; tackle George Rice of LSU; and guard Larry Gagner and tackle Randy Jackson of Florida.

Michigan State opened its all-winning season with a 13-3 victory over UCLA and is heavily favored to roll over the Bruins in the Rose Bowl. Lucas anchors a solid defense for the Spartans, whose strong attack is engineered by All-America quarterback Steve Juday and sparked by halfback Clint Jones.

Arkansas also is a heavy favorite to win its second straight Cotton Bowl game, with the versatile Razorback offense rated too much for LSU to handle. Quarterback Jon Brittenum and halfback Bobby Burnett are the Arkansas standouts on attack. LSU's Tigers take a 7-3 record into the game.

The huge Nebraska Cornhuskers and the lean Alabamans are expected to put on a close fight in the Orange Bowl Saturday night, with 'Bama the slight choice. Experts figure the Crimson Tide has the quickness to overcome Nebraska's big edge in size.

The Missouri-Florida match at New Orleans also shapes up as a tight one. The Tigers from the Big Eight, 7-2-1, field a tough defense and a diversified offense led by quarterback Gary Lane. Florida, 7-3, depends heavily on the passing of Steve Spurrier, whose prime target has been All-America Charlie Casey.

All four of the New Year's bowl games will be nationally televised, with NBC-TV's coverage on a virtual non-stop basis. That network will carry the Sugar Bow, starting at 2 p.m. EST, the Rose Bowl, at 5 p.m., and the Orange Bowl, at 8 p.m. CBS-TV will have the Cotton Bowl, starting at 2 p.m.

Washington Passer Hits For 3 TD's

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Washington quarterback Ted Hullin fired three touchdown passes to bring the underdog West a 22-7 victory over the East Friday in the 41st annual East-West football game.

The 190-pounder from Seattle, who won his starting job during the past week of practice, connected on a 42-yard pass to Arizona State's Ben Hawkins, a four-yard pitch to Gary Garrison of San Diego State and a nine-yarder to Ron Sbranti of Utah State.

Hullin's first two scoring throws came in the final two minutes of the first half to put the West on top after trailing 7-3.

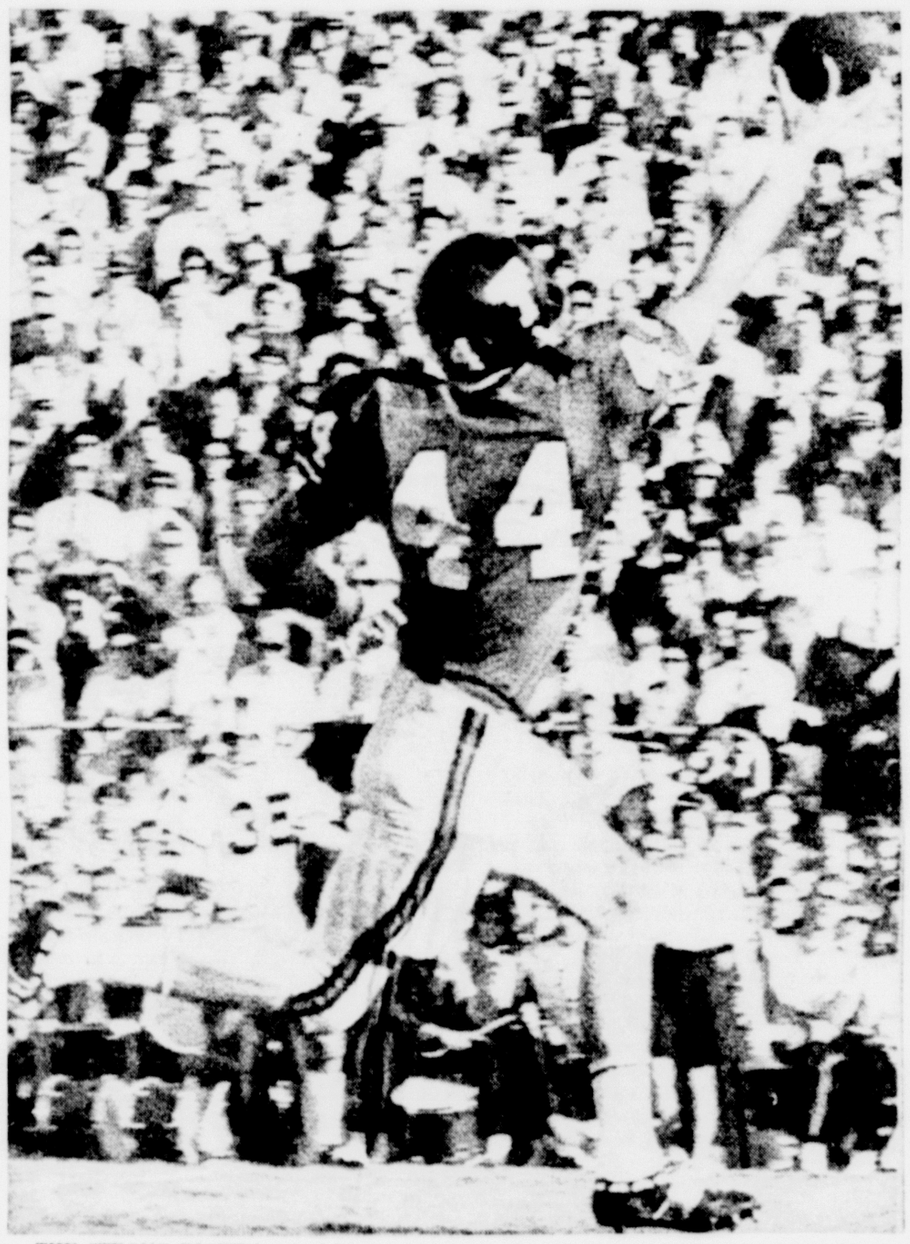

A crowd of 56,121 watched in sunny, chilly weather at Kezar Stadium as the big West defenders checked Illinois' All-America Jim Grabowski, the chief running threat for the East.

Quarterback John Hankinson drew first blood for the East when he hit his University of Minnesota teammate Aaron Brown on a 32-yard scoring pass in the opening quarter. Ken Ivan of Notre Dame kicked the conversion.

Anderson's $600,000 Tops Joe

Texas Tech Star Picks Green Bay

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. AP — Donny Anderson, Texas Tech's All-America halfback, signed a contract with the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League Friday for a reported $600,000, believed to be the most money ever given a college football player.

The 215-pound all-purpose player insisted on making the announcement personally at a midtown hotel.

Bud Adams, president of the Houston Oilers of the American League, said earlier he had offered Anderson an $887,000 package, which included a $200,000 home in Houston, $16,000 worth of furniture and a $36,000 swimming pool.

"I know that Green Bay's offer was $200,000 less than ours," Adams said.

Anderson was the No. 1 draft choice of the Packers and the Oilers a year ago when he was selected as a future choice.

Anderson was voted his team's outstanding player Friday in the Gator Bowl football game won by Georgia Tech 31-21.

He made two sensational one-handed catches which led to touchdowns, scored one touchdown and showed a lot of power in carrying the ball.

For the lst two years as an All-America he has been the country's top offensive performer, as a runner, pass receiver and kick returner.

The $600,000 figure for Anderson exceeds the $427,000 contract given to last year's top-priced signee, Alabama quarterback Joe Namath, who signed with the New York Jets of the AFL.

However, there have been unconfirmed reports that Illinois fullback Jim Grabowski who also signed with Green Bay, and Texas linebacker Tommy Nobis, who signed with Atlanta of the NFL, received contracts that might be in the same neighborhood as Anderson's.

The unconfirmed reports have listed Nobis as receiving as much as $700,000 and Grabowski as much as $625,000.

Orange Bowl Seen As High Scoring Game

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Once-beaten Alabama pits its quick-striking offense against the heavier, unbeaten Nebraska Cornhuskers Saturday night in what looms as a high-scoring Orange Bowl football game.

The fourth-ranked Crimson Tide, 8-1-1, is a slight favorite to defeat third-ranked Nebraska, 10-0.

The game will be televised nationally by NBC starting at 8 p.m., EST.

"It'll take four touchdowns to win the game and I believe we'll win it," predicted Carl Selmer, Nebraska's line coach. Neither head coach, Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama nor Bob Devaney of Nebraska would predict the outcome.

The Tide will be counting on the passing wizardry of Steve Sloan to offset Nebraska's heft and fine running game. The Cornhuskers led the nation in rushing yardage with an average of almost 290 yards a game. Their huge defensive line enabled them to place seventh in the country in defense.

Alabama, which topped the Southeastern Conference for the second straight year, has a balanced offense that rolled up an average of 167.4 yards rushing and 147.9 passing.

Spartans Picked By 2 Touchdowns

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Michigan State, the unbeaten, untied Goliaths of the Big Ten, and UCLA, the little Davids of the West Coast, collide New Year's Day in the 52nd annual Rose Bowl football game.

The weather and condition of the playing field figure to be factors but the Spartans from East Lansing, led by All-America quarterback Steve Juday, are solid favorites to win by two touchdowns or more. Sunny weather, however, was forecast.

The Bruins of UCLA, champions of the Pacific Athletic Conference, won seven, lost two and tied one, and their first loss of the college season was to Michigan State at East Lansing, 13-3.

Leader of the Bruins is adventurous Gary Beban, who may well be the finest sophomore quarterback in recent years and a dangerous man on the pass-run option play.

A soggy field from the heavy rains earlier this week will not be a complete novelty to either team.

Barring bad weather, attendance is expected to be around capacity of 100,807.

Arkansas Attempts To Pad 23rd Straight With Cotton

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Arkansas seeks its 23rd straight victory, second bowl triumph in a row and a possible national football championship Saturday when it sends its high stepping offense against Louisiana State's embattled Tigers in the Cotton Bowl.

The Southwest Conference's representative has won the Cotton Bowl two years straight but it is interesting to note that the last time the conference's team failed it was against this same Louisiana State.

That was 1963 when an underdog Louisiana State rose up to whip one of Texas' finest teams 13-0.

Arkansas will be a 10-point favorite when it takes the field against the Tigers, who have a 7-3 record but a stronger offense than the 1963 team.

The Razorbacks started the week with a nine-point bulge but it had advanced to 10 Friday. Prospects of good weather — cold and dry — may have influenced the rise.

The Cotton Bowl game is scheduled for 2 p.m. EST with a sellout 75,504 and CBS TV.

Arkansas has averaged 360.3 yards on offense and Coach Frank Broyles admits it has more weapons with which to score than any other Razorback outfit.

Louisiana State isn't exactly impotent on offense, however. Joe LaBruzzo, a 5-9, 170-pounder leads a bruising ground attack that gouged 2,077 yards out of 10 enemy lines. LaBruzzo, in addition to running for 509 yards, caught 15 passes for 167, ran 15 punts back 284 and returned 10 kickoffs for 218 yards.

Lucky Debonair Returns Today In Malibu Stakes

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Lucky Debonair, the 1965 winner of the Kentucky and Santa Anita derbies, returns to the race track Saturday as the top horse in the $25,000-added Malibu Stakes.

The 7-furlong Malibu is half of a New Year's Day racing double header. The other is the $25,000 - added San Gabriel Handicap at 1⅛ miles over the grass course.

The Malibu, restricted to newly turned 4-year-olds, marks the first appearance of Lucky Debonair since he injured himself in the Preakness at Pimlico last May 15.

Running for Mrs. Ada L. Rice, Lucky Debonair and 10 rivals will use the Malibu as a tune-up for the $100,000-added Charles H. Strub Stakes Jan. 29.

Rated as the leading threats to Lucky Debonair are Bold Bidder, Terry's Secret and Royal Gunner.

Others entered in the Malibu were Carpenter's Rule, Blue Surge, Hasty Trip, Arksroni, Sir Bolco, Old Mose and Hoist Bar.

Lucky Debonair, with Bill Shoemaker slated for the ride, will carry high weight of 126 pounds.

Starr, Taylor Appear Set For Sunday

GREEN BAY, Wis. AP — Bart Starr and Jim Taylor appeared ready for action in Sunday's National Football League title game with Cleveland after Friday's final full scale Green Bay Packer workout.

Coach Vince Lombardi indicated Starr would be at his normal quarterback job but held off an official anouncement until shortly before game time.

Taylor, who has been handicapped by a pulled groin muscle on the left side, was able to resume running on the slippery practice field although he did not go all out.

Starr, of course, has been the main problem all week. The Packers' ace passer suffered back and side injuries on the first play of last Sunday's Western Conference playoff game with Baltimore. He has been throwing a little better each day since practice resumed Wednesday.

Browns Coach Blanton Collier said his team was in good physical condition although "you can't go through a full National Football League schedule without picking up some bumps and bruises."

As to the team's attitude, Collier said, "Naturally, they're keyed up. They want to win. In a championship game, you don't have to worry about spirit."

The "invitation" was a full-page advertisement taken by the Green Bay Post Gazette in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

After Friday's drill Lombardi said "Bart threw real well but there still is some soreness. We still have 48 hours to go. I am going to have another short workout Saturday morning to let him throw some more.

"If I told you he was going to start I might be wrong. And if I told you he wasn't going to start I might not be telling the truth. I just won't know for sure until he warms up Sunday."

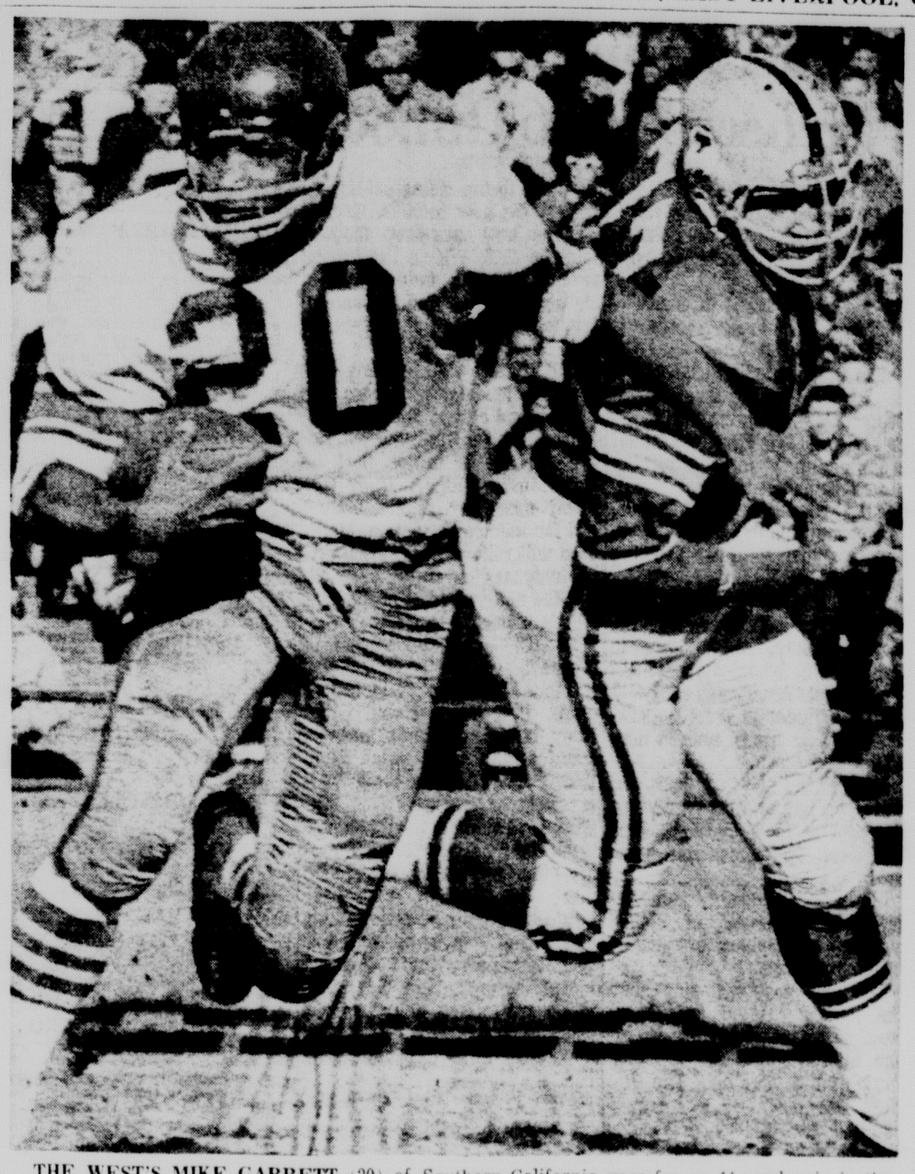

All in all, the Packer offense was hurting a bit. The regulars will start but it remained to be seen how long they'd stand up under heavy pressure. The defense on the other hand, was solid and ready for another war with Jim Brown & Co.

The weather man continued to talk about temperatures in the mid to low 20s for Sunday with cloudy weather and 18-mile-an-hour winds from the northwest.

The Browns were scheduled to leave Cleveland on an early-evening flight.

They had a sloppy field and temperatures in the 60's for their final heavy workout at Don Fleming Field. Collier said it was a somewhat ragged session, "but the final session always is."

He added that quarterback Frank Ryan, who was hit by an intestinal ailment one day this week, looked good Friday.

cago, except for 1963 when they were all together under one roof again for the new National China & Glass Show, sponsored by the same group which arranged the traditional Pittsburgh Show. But the new Chicago exhibit was held only one year. In early 1964 and January 1965, the four area firms were split between the Chicago and Atlantic City exhibits.

The Atlantic City Show is sponsored by the China, Glass & Pottery Association of America, Inc., and arranged by George Little Management, Inc., of New York City. It will continue through Friday, Jan. 7.

HOMER LAUGHLIN plans to show a group of new lines ranging from $19.95 to $29.95 for a 45-piece set, all designed by Vincent Broomhall, its art director.

One of the new lines will be "Sculptura," a modern shape in a new white glaze featuring a sky blue intaglio border. It will have an all - over texture on the hollow ware items in sky blue coloring. Also new is "Williamsburg Colonial," a provincial early American shape featuring octagonal paneling in all items. The "Williamsburg Colonial" also will be shown in snow white glaze.

A new pattern in a solid band treatment of golden yellow treatment will emphasize an underglaze design on the rim of the plate. Two new large floral decal treatments will be shown in a "color - mated" ensemble. They are "Autumn Fantasy," a pattern color - mated with avocado green items, and "Blue Symphony," color - mated with Tropic Blue items. Other new treatments also will be included in the offerings.

TST WILL present a new line on a basically coupe shape called "Design 70," to emphasize the timelessness of the color combinations and the styling. The new patterns will be called "Azura," "Lazy Daisy," "Indian Summer," "Arboresque" and "Do-Van."

A "long line," it is comprised of 29 pieces, set off with solid brass and walnut accessories.

The line will feature a brown body applied to traditional white with engobe color overlaid in blue, old gold, sage green, white and dove gray. There is a new type of raised enameled silk screen treatment which gives dimension to the decoration.

The long line "tries to anticipate every possible serving need" of a household, the company said, adding that the body "is 10 per cent stronger than existing ware" because of research and development work. The ware also is oven - proof and detergent - safe, it added.

Hall China said it will exhibit its regular line of tea pots and cooking ware at the Chicago show.

softening of its stand that the United States must pull its troops out of South Viet Nam before peace talks can even be considered.

Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin made this point again in an interview with Japanese newsmen published in Moscow by the government paper Izvestia. He said the Soviet Union would continue to render all possible aid to North Viet Nam.

Informed sources said in Paris that the United States was testing assertions that bombings of North Viet Nam had prevented peace negotiations from starting.

These sources pointed out there has been no bombings of North Viet Nam for the past eight days, and added that if there was any indication from North Viet Nam that they are willing to negotiate, the bombings would be halted indefinitely.

These sources commented on Goldberg's mission after he had spent the day conferring with De Gaulle, Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and talking to the members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization permanent council. He leaves Saturday for London to talk with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

The sources said some governments and a good many people, both abroad and in the United States, have asserted that the bombing of North Viet Nam has been inhibiting acceptance of offers to negotiate.

The United States is not of this view, but, according to these sources, is putting it to the test by withholding bombing of North Viet Nam to give Hanoi opportunity to respond.

The sources, while not able to make an estimate how long the bomb pause will continue, stressed that there was nothing threatening in the gesture. It was simply to find out if Hanoi will make any overture toward negotitions, working from a premise that up to now bombing of North Viet Nan has prevented this.

In the past 80 years Texas farmers have grown 280 million bales of cotton worth about $27 billion, the Cotton Research Committee of Texas reports.

Feb. 1 Sentencing Set For Jesse Owens

CHICAGO (AP) — Sentencing of Jesse Owens, former Olympic track star, on a charge of evading $29,135 in income taxes over a four-year period has been set for Feb. 1 in United States District Court.

Owens, 52, was found guilty Dec. 21 and the sentencing date was set after a mitigation hearing Thursday, marked by testimony of four character witnesses.

Maximum penalty against Owens, who set three world marks and tied a fourth in the 1935 Big Ten outdoor meet, could be four years in prison and a $40,000 fine.

Missouri Given Edge On Florida

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Missouri and Florida meet in the Sugar Bowl football game Saturday with the stubborn, meticulous Tigers from the Big Eight Confernece two-point favorites over the Gators, the most aerial-minded team ever to come out of the Southeastern Conference.

They are matched for a 2 p.m., EST, kickoff in 82,500-seat Tulane Stadium with only about 65,000 spectators looking on.

The game, the 32nd in a series that never has produced a tie, will be telecast nationally by NBC.

The Missouri Tigers, who fashioned a 7-2-1 record which included losses to Kentucky and Nebraska by a total of 10 points, are favored because of their stingy defense that has held the season's rivals to an average of 8.3 points a game, and a versatile offense featuring quarterback Gary Lane and halfback Charlie Brown.

Florida gets support because of its unorthodox, yet successful, attitude and its explosive air-attack. The Gators normally build a lead in the first half, fritter it away in the third period, then pull out the decision with some movie-style heroics in the final seconds.

They won seven of their 10 games this fall by that formula, mostly on the super passing of quarterback Steve Spurrier and the receiving of Charlie Casey, All-America end.

reported. Several businesses and homes were inundated, a main runway at the airport was partly covered and the newly opened Interstate 10 freeway was damaged and had to be closed.

The water was released from the six reservoirs which have been at or near capacity on the Salt River chain northeast of Phoenix. Spokesmen for the Salt River Project said this had to be done to avert the chance of a major flood in the near future.

They said the water should start subsiding Saturday — barring more heavy rain and snow on the watershed. December storms have dumped record precipitation on many parts of the state, especially the watershed areas.

A 12-square mile-area of south Phoenix was warned to evacuate after Gov. Sam Goddard declared a state of emergency during the morning.

The National Guard called out 320 men and, by midafternoon, had placed 2,500 persons in shelters. Another 4,000 were expected to be housed in armories, churches and three schools by nightfall.

Police cars, sirens screaming, gave the alarm as Army trucks cruised neighborhoods to pick up persons without transportation.

No flooding in major residential areas was reported.

Only two bridges were left to link the north and south banks of the Phoenix-Tempe area.

North Tempe appeared to receive the worst early damage. A night club, pet cemetery, several other businesses and homes, all located in the river bed, were flooded.

Electrical power to a large area of Tempe, Phoenix and adjoining Scottsdale was out for more than two hours when transmission lines across the river were swept away.

Carl Pasterino, about 23, of Tempe, apparently drowned Friday when he tried to swim from a car which stalled while trying to cross the river. A companion was saved by a National Guard helicopter after spending six hours on the car roof.

Q.—What is the best way to shampoo furniture upholstery?

A.—Make a rich soap lather, and apply only the lather with a cloth or brush — making sure not to get the upholstery wet. Wipe off with a cloth or sponge wrung very tightly from clear water.

Q.—How can I clean the smoked areas on a brick or stone fireplace?

A.—Cover with a paste made of concentrated ammonia and powdered pumice. Let this paste remain on for about two hours, then scrub off with hot water an soap, rinse with clear water and let dry.

Starr, Taylor Appear Set For Sunday

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Bart Starr and Jim Taylor appeared ready for action in Sunday's National Football League title game with Cleveland after Friday's final full scale Green Bay Packer workout.

Coach Vince Lombardi indicated Starr would be at his normal quarterback job but held off an official announcement until shortly before game time.

Taylor, who has been handicapped by a pulled groin muscle on the left side, was able to resume running on the slippery practice field although he did not go all out.

Starr, of course, has been the main problem all week. The Packers' ace passer suffered back and side injuries on the first play of last Sunday's Western Conference playoff game with Baltimore. He has been throwing a little better each day since practice resumed Wednesday.

Browns Coach Blanton Collier said his team was in good physical condition although "you can't go through a full National Football League schedule without picking up some bumps and bruises."

As to the team's attitude, Collier said, "Naturally, they're keyed up. They want to win. In a championship game, you don't have to worry about spirit."

If they needed further incentive, an "invitation" from a Green Bay newspaper to the Browns "to return the National Football League title to Green Bay Sunday" was tacked on the dressing room wall at the Browns' practice field.

The "invitation" was a full-page advertisement taken by the Green Bay Post Gazette in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

After Friday's drill Lombardi said "Bart threw real well but there still is some soreness. We still have 48 hours to go. I am going to have another short workout Saturday morning to let him throw some more.

"If I told you he was going to start I might be wrong. And if I told you he wasn't going to start I might not be telling the truth. I just won't know for sure until he warms up Sunday."

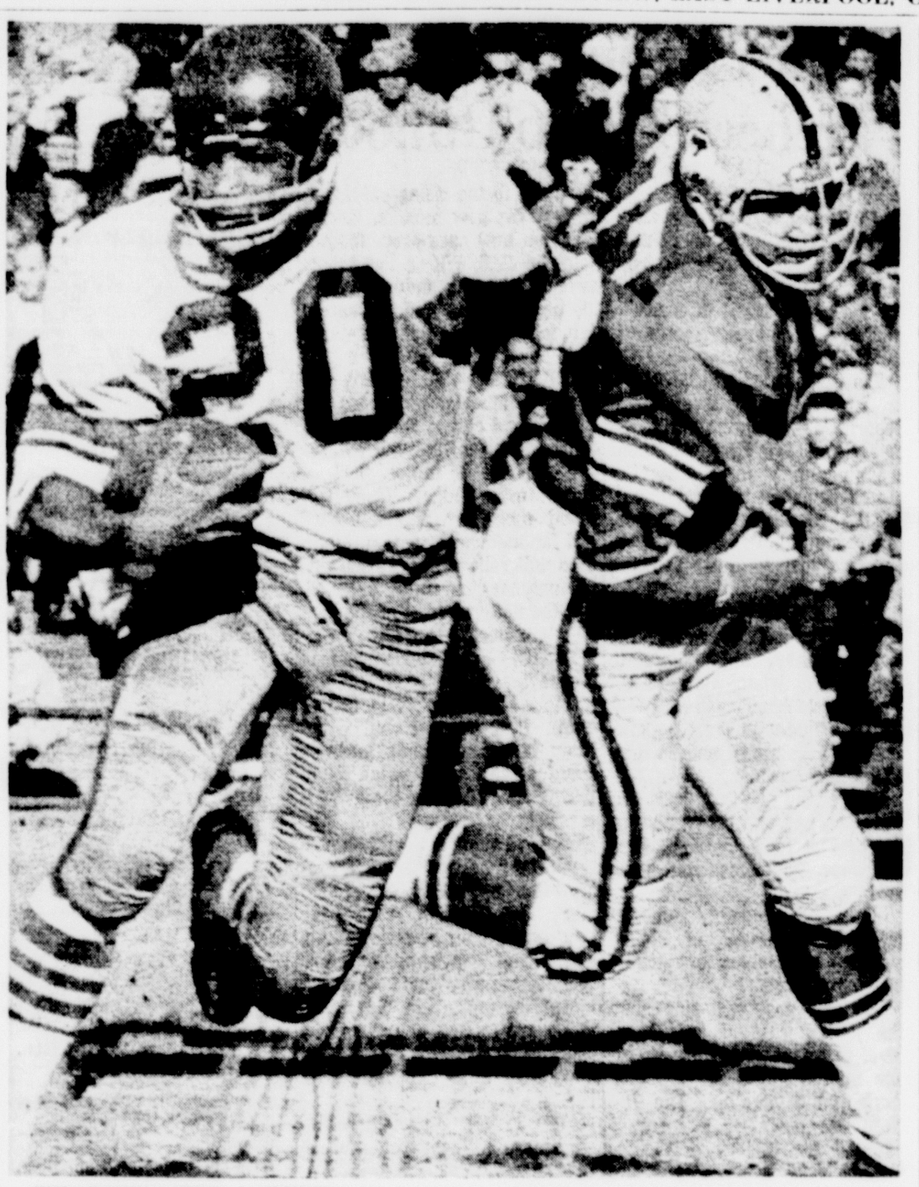

All in all, the Packer offense was hurting a bit. The regulars will start but it remained to be seen how long they'd stand up under heavy pressure. The defense on the other hand, was solid and ready for another war with Jim Brown & Co.

The weather man continued to talk about temperatures in the mid to low 20s for Sunday with cloudy weather and 18-mile-an-hour winds from the northwest.

The Browns were scheduled to leave Cleveland on an early-evening flight.

They had a sloppy field and temperatures in the 60's for their final heavy workout at Don Fleming Field. Collier said it was a somewhat ragged session, "but the final session always is."

He added that quarterback Frank Ryan, who was hit by an intestinal ailment one day this week, looked good Friday.

THE WEST'S MIKE GARRETT (20) of Southern California goes for an 11-yard gain in the first quarter against the East Friday in the annual Shrine Game at San Francisco. About to make the tackle is East's John Niland of Iowa. Garrett signed a bonus contract with the Kansas City Chiefs after the contest. (UPI Telephoto)

cago, except for 1963 when they were all together under one roof again for the new National China & Glass Show, sponsored by the same group which arranged the traditional Pittsburgh Show. But the new Chicago exhibit was held only one year. In early 1964 and January 1965, the four area firms were split between the Chicago and Atlantic City exhibits.

The Atlantic City Show is sponsored by the China, Glass & Pottery Association of America, Inc., and arranged by George Little Management, Inc., of New York City. It will continue through Friday, Jan. 7.

HOMER LAUGHLIN plans to show a group of new lines ranging from $19.95 to $29.95 for a 45-piece set, all designed by Vincent Broomhall, its art director.

One of the new lines will be "Sculptura," a modern shape in a new white glaze featuring a sky blue intaglio border. It will have an all - over texture on the hollow ware items in sky blue coloring. Also new is "Williamsburg Colonial," a provincial early American shape featuring octagonal paneling in all items. The "Williamsburg Colonial" also will be shown in snow white glaze.

A new pattern in a solid band treatment of golden yellow treatment will emphasize an underglaze design on the rim of the plate. Two new large floral decal treatments will be shown in a "color - mated" ensemble. They are "Autumn Fantasy," a pattern color - mated with avocado green items, and "Blue Symphony," color - mated with Tropic Blue items. Other new treatments also will be included in the offerings.

TST WILL present a new line on a basically coupe shape called "Design 70," to emphasize the timelessness of the color combinations and the styling. The new patterns will be called "Azura," "Lazy Daisy," "Indian Summer," "Arboresque" and "Do-Van."

A "long line," it is comprised of 29 pieces, set off with solid brass and walnut accessories.

The line will feature a brown body applied to traditional white with engobe color overlaid in blue, old gold, sage green, white and dove gray. There is a new type of raised enameled silk screen treatment which gives dimension to the decoration.

The long line "tries to anticipate every possible serving need" of a household, the company said, adding that the body "is 10 per cent stronger than existing ware" because of research and development work. The ware also is oven - proof and detergent - safe, it added.

Hall China said it will exhibit its regular line of tea pots and cooking ware at the Chicago show.

softening of its stand that the United States must pull its troops out of South Viet Nam before peace talks can even be considered.

Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin made this point again in an interview with Japanese newsmen published in Moscow by the government paper Izvestia. He said the Soviet Union would continue to render all possible aid to North Viet Nam.

Informed sources said in Paris that the United States was testing assertions that bombings of North Viet Nam had prevented peace negotiations from starting.

These sources pointed out there has been no bombings of North Viet Nam for the past eight days, and added that if there was any indication from North Viet Nam that they are willing to negotiate, the bombings would be halted indefinitely.

These sources commented on Goldberg's mission after he had spent the day conferring with De Gaulle, Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and talking to the members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization permanent council. He leaves Saturday for London to talk with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

The sources said some governments and a good many people, both abroad and in the United States, have asserted that the bombing of North Viet Nam has been inhibiting acceptance of offers to negotiate.

The United States is not of this view, but, according to these sources, is putting it to the test by withholding bombing of North Viet Nam to give Hanoi opportunity to respond.

The sources, while not able to make an estimate how long the bomb pause will continue, stressed that there was nothing threatening in the gesture. It was simply to find out if Hanoi will make any overture toward negotitions, working from a premise that up to now bombing of North Viet Nan has prevented this.

Feb. 1 Sentencing Set For Jesse Owens

CHICAGO (AP) — Sentencing of Jesse Owens, former Olympic track star, on a charge of evading $29,135 in income taxes over a four-year period has been set for Feb. 1 in United States District Court.

Owens, 52, was found guilty Dec. 21 and the sentencing date was set after a mitigation hearing Thursday, marked by testimony of four character witnesses.

Maximum penalty against Owens, who set three world marks and tied a fourth in the 1935 Big Ten outdoor meet, could be four years in prison and a $40,000 fine.

Sardinia, 120 miles west of the Italian mainland, is losing its reputation as Italy's wild and woolly frontier. Marinas, villas and luxury hotels have transformed Sardinia's bleakly beautiful northeast shoreline into the "Emerald Coast."

5 Men To Probe Hospital And School Finances

HARRISBURG (AP)—Welfare Secretary Arlin M. Adams today designated a special five-man committee to investigate the administrative and financial conditions at Western State School and Hospital.

Adams announcement came two days after Democratic Auditor Gen. Grace M. Sloan reported that department auditors had uncovered a $1,000 cash shortage at the mental institution and inefficient administration.

Adams said Mrs. Sloan's charges were "of such a serious nature" that a "prompt and complete disclosure" of the committee's findings was "absolutely essential."

Named by Adams were: Mrs. Eleanor Kephart, president of the Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Children, Inc.; Mrs. Theodore Johnson, executive director of the association's Allegheny County Chapter; Elmer J. Tropman, executive director of the Allegheny County Health and Welfare Associations, and Allegheny County Reps. K. Leroy Irvis, a Democrat, and George K. Haudenshield, a Republican.

The secretary said all but Irvis, whom he could not contact, had agreed to serve on the special committee. Adams added that he selected Irvis because of his "great interest in the problems of the mentally retarded."

OSU Enrollment Up From 7 Of Biggest Counties

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Increased enrollment at Ohio State University from seven of the state's major metropolitan counties was reported by OSU Friday despite growing opportunities for higher education at other spots in the state.

A statistical study by the registrar's office showed that Columbus enrollment for autumn, 1965, increased from Cuyahoga, Hamilton, Stark, Summit, Lucas and Montgomery counties, as well as from Franklin County.

From Cuyahoga County, autumn enrollment totaled 4,127 in Columbus, up 444 over the 1964 total of 3,683. An additional 570 at the Lakewood campus and 4 at various other branches brought Ohio State's grand total enrollment from Cuyahoga to 4,701.

From Hamilton County, 985 were enrolled here; Stark County had 773, Summit 995, Lucas 590 and Montgomery 1,292. Enrollment for autumn from Franklin County was up 1,138 from 1964's figure to a total of 10,449.

Scranton Signs Bill Boosting Compensation

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton signed into law Friday a bill providing for increases in state workmen's compensation benefits.

The new law, effective Saturday, increases the compensation for total disability from $47.50 per week to $52.50 and for partial disability from $27.50 to $31.50 a week.

Increases also are provided for medical and surgical benefits, as well as compensation to widows.

Scranton also signed a bill which codifies and revises provisions of the so-called "tax anything law," spelling out collection procedures when local governments are empowered to tax the same subject.

He became chairman of CG&E in 1957 after serving as president of the utility since 1945. As head of CG&E, Beckjord launched a national campaign to attract new industry to the Cincinnati area. The company's new power station at New Richmond is named in his honor.

Costlier Living, Fatter Paychecks 1966 Outlook

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Costlier living but fatter paychecks from more jobs and only an off chance of shortages in goods — that's the outlook for most Americans in 1966.

The tax burden will be heavier. At the federal level Social Security withholding will be larger, and rising government spending might force other tax increases before the year is out. At the state and local levels, many communities are likely to collect more to meet growing expenditures.

But the Viet Nam war, plus whatever's left over for the Great Society, seems sure to tighten the labor market and keep most Americans busy — and as affluent as ever. Borrowing will cost more, and so may goods and services.

Here's the 1966 outlook for your job, pay and taxes, and for the cost of food, clothing, shelter, cars, appliances and services:

JOBS — The worry suddenly turns to shortages of skilled workers after years of strictly high employment.

The new year will start with the jobless rate at the lowest level in years and with almost one million more teen-agers at work than a year ago. The Viet Nam war promises to increase demand for factory goods, as well as draw more youths into the armed forces. Corporations are competing with each other to hire workers in some of the more highly skilled trades. Labor ferment in 1965 saw some 20 million man days of production lost in strikes, the highest in six years. Wage scales have been rising more than in the previous two years.

PERSONAL INCOMES — Another big rise is in the making.

Economists are talking about the total hitting $560 billion in 1966, compared with $417 billion in 1961. It crossed the $500 billion line early in1965. Full employment plus rising wage scales should keep the pocketbook boom going. Income from higher interest rates and larger dividends will help many persons. Larger Social Security checks will help others. But hopes that another tax cut might add to take home pay are fading fast. There's more likely to be a further tax drain on the family budget instead.

LIVING COSTS — It's getting harder to hold them down.

From 1960 to mid-1965 the average costs of goods and services went up less than 1.5 per cent a year. Then consumer and industrial prices started climbing. The government appealed to businessmen to hold prices down. But as demand for goods rises and the excess industrial capacity shrinks, and wage scales climb, the pressure on prices increases. In 1966 you'll be paying more for a lot of things, such as overcoats, men's suits, shoes, and doubtless more, too, for many services.

FOOD — Tighter supplies develop where shortages once ruled.

Hogs are bringing the highest prices since 1952. Choice grades of beef are up. The government is releasing some of its stockpile of high protein wheat to hold down the price of flour and bread. The government's index of food prices stood at 109.7 in October, against 106.9 the previous year. But even so, the rise in food prices was less steep than that in services, such as medical care. Americans spent about $86 billion for food in 1965. Another 6 per cent rise in outlay is expected in 1966.

HOUSES — Still a holdout in the prosperity parade.

Lagging for two years, the building of new homes seems likely to pick up very little if any in 1966. Rising interest rates might discourage some mortgage seekers. Building costs may rise further, especially as many raw materials are priced higher. Although fewer homes are being built, the buyers are going in for more expensive houses. Builders say the surplus of apartments is being whittled down. And in the years just ahead a horde of youths will be reaching the marriage age, finding more jobs — and hopefully buying more homes.

APPLIANCES — Improvements and stable prices stretch out the boom.

Fatter personal incomes are the big bet for the industry's sales force. The replacement market has been growing as earlier models are fast outdated. The expected rise in the marriage rate should help sales. But mostly it's a matter of catching the fancy of an affluent society.

AUTOS — You may spend more but you'll get more.

Industry leaders say that buyers of 1966 models are shelling out at a great rate for the optional improvements. Sales of domestic and foreign cars crossed the nine-million mark for the first time in 1965. Detroit says it's sure the pace will be maintained in 1966, and points for proof to the rising sales volume of the new models. Excise taxes on new cars drop another notch in 1966. Where list prices have risen, the industry says it's because once optional safety devices have been made standard.

SERVICES — Americans will demand more and pay more.

The rapid rise in charges may slacken a bit in 1966, but outlays will still be a major part of most family budgets. They will spend more for personal care and for medical attention. Medicare will relieve the burden after midyear for those over 65. But the national total of medical bills is expected to rise.

TAXES — A bleaker year in prospect.

Uncle Sam expects to collect more. Part of this will come from larger personal incomes taxed at the same rates as in 1965. Part will come from higher rates on workers and employers to support Social Security. Some fear that if the Treasury has to spend too much more, some other taxes may rise or new ones be levied. State and local governments are spending more, and collecting more revenues from old taxes. Many are talking of trying new ones. Most Americans will find that their total tax outlays in 1966 are higher.

ADD IT UP — Another bigger, more affluent and costlier year ahead.

Businessmen are confident they'll sell more to more consumers — even though they worry lest rising production costs trim profit margins as sales rise. Consumers seem just as confident they'll be making more and willing to spend more — and will be demanding more, both in goods and services, and in quality.

5 Men To Probe Hospital And School Finances

HARRISBURG (AP)—Welfare Secretary Arlin M. Adams today designated a special five-man committee to investigate the administrative and financial conditions at Western State School and Hospital.

Adams announcement came two days after Democratic Auditor Gen. Grace M. Sloan reported that department auditors had uncovered a $1,000 cash shortage at the mental institution and inefficient administration.

Adams said Mrs. Sloan's charges were "of such a serious nature" that a "prompt and complete disclosure" of the committee's findings was "absolutely essential."

Named by Adams were: Mrs. Eleanor Kephart, president of the Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Children, Inc.; Mrs. Theodore Johnson, executive director of the association's Allegheny County Chapter; Elmer J. Tropman, executive director of the Allegheny County Health and Welfare Associations, and Allegheny County Reps. K. Leroy Irvis, a Democrat, and George K. Haudenshield, a Republican.

The secretary said all but Irvis, whom he could not contact, had agreed to serve on the special committee. Adams added that he selected Irvis because of his "great interest in the problems of the mentally retarded."

OSU Enrollment Up From 7 Of Biggest Counties

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Increased enrollment at Ohio State University from seven of the state's major metropolitan counties was reported by OSU Friday despite growing opportunities for higher education at other spots in the state.

A statistical study by the registrar's office showed that Columbus enrollment for autumn, 1965, increased from Cuyahoga, Hamilton, Stark, Summit, Lucas and Montgomery counties, as well as from Franklin County.

From Cuyahoga County, autumn enrollment totaled 4,127 in Columbus, up 444 over the 1964 total of 3,683. An additional 570 at the Lakewood campus and 4 at various other branches brought Ohio State's grand total enrollment from Cuyahoga to 4,701.

From Hamilton County, 985 were enrolled here; Stark County had 773, Summit 995, Lucas 590 and Montgomery 1,292. Enrollment for autumn from Franklin County was up 1,138 from 1964's figure to a total of 10,449.

Scranton Signs Bill Boosting Compensation

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton signed into law Friday a bill providing for increases in state workmen's compensation benefits.

The new law, effective Saturday, increases the compensation for total disability from $47.50 per week to $52.50 and for partial disability from $27.50 to $31.50 a week.

Increases also are provided for medical and surgical benefits, as well as compensation to widows.

Scranton also signed a bill which codifies and revises provisions of the so-called "tax anything law," spelling out collection procedures when local governments are empowered to tax the same subject.

Retired Executive Dies In New England

CINCINNATI (AP)—Walter C. Beckjord, 77, who retired in April, 1962, as board chairman of the Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co., died Friday in Duxbury, Mass. Beckjord had made his home in Duxbury since his retirement.

He became chairman of CG&E in 1957 after serving as president of the utility since 1945. As head of CG&E, Beckjord launched a national campaign to attract new industry to the Cincinnati area. The company's new power station at New Richmond is named in his honor.

Costlier Living, Fatter Paychecks 1966 Outlook

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Costlier living but fatter paychecks from more jobs and only an off chance of shortages in goods — that's the outlook for most Americans in 1966.

The tax burden will be heavier. At the federal level Social Security withholding will be larger, and rising government spending might force other tax increases before the year is out. At the state and local levels, many communities are likely to collect more to meet growing expenditures.

But the Viet Nam war, plus whatever's left over for the Great Society, seems sure to tighten the labor market and keep most Americans busy — and as affluent as ever. Borrowing will cost more, and so may goods and services.

Here's the 1966 outlook for your job, pay and taxes, and for the cost of food, clothing, shelter, cars, appliances and services:

JOBS — The worry suddenly turns to shortages of skilled workers after years of strictly high employment.

The new year will start with the jobless rate at the lowest level in years and with almost one million more teen-agers at work than a year ago. The Viet Nam war promises to increase demand for factory goods, as well as draw more youths into the armed forces. Corporations are competing with each other to hire workers in some of the more highly skilled trades. Labor ferment in 1965 saw some 20 million man days of production lost in strikes, the highest in six years. Wage scales have been rising more than in the previous two years.

PERSONAL INCOMES — Another big rise is in the making.

Economists are talking about the total hitting $560 billion in 1966, compared with $417 billion in 1961. It crossed the $500 billion line early in1965. Full employment plus rising wage scales should keep the pocketbook boom going. Income from higher interest rates and larger dividends will help many persons. Larger Social Security checks will help others. But hopes that another tax cut might add to take home pay are fading fast. There's more likely to be a further tax drain on the family budget instead.

LIVING COSTS — It's getting harder to hold them down.

From 1960 to mid-1965 the average costs of goods and services went up less than 1.5 per cent a year. Then consumer and industrial prices started climbing. The government appealed to businessmen to hold prices down. But as demand for goods rises and the excess industrial capacity shrinks, and wage scales climb, the pressure on prices increases. In 1966 you'll be paying more for a lot of things, such as overcoats, men's suits, shoes, and doubtless more, too, for many services.

FOOD — Tighter supplies develop where shortages once ruled.

Hogs are bringing the highest prices since 1952. Choice grades of beef are up. The government is releasing some of its stockpile of high protein wheat to hold down the price of flour and bread. The government's index of food prices stood at 109.7 in October, against 106.9 the previous year. But even so, the rise in food prices was less steep than that in services, such as medical care. Americans spent about $86 billion for food in 1965. Another 6 per cent rise in outlay is expected in 1966.

HOUSES — Still a holdout in the prosperity parade.

Lagging for two years, the building of new homes seems likely to pick up very little if any in 1966. Rising interest rates might discourage some mortgage seekers. Building costs may rise further, especially as many raw materials are priced higher. Although fewer homes are being built, the buyers are going in for more expensive houses. Builders say the surplus of apartments is being whittled down. And in the years just ahead a horde of youths will be reaching the marriage age, finding more jobs — and hopefully buying more homes.

APPLIANCES — Improvements and stable prices stretch out the boom.

Fatter personal incomes are the big bet for the industry's sales force. The replacement market has been growing as earlier models are fast outdated. The expected rise in the marriage rate should help sales. But mostly it's a matter of catching the fancy of an affluent society.

AUTOS — You may spend more but you'll get more.

Industry leaders say that buyers of 1966 models are shelling out at a great rate for the optional improvements. Sales of domestic and foreign cars crossed the nine-million mark for the first time in 1965. Detroit says it's sure the pace will be maintained in 1966, and points for proof to the rising sales volume of the new models. Excise taxes on new cars drop another notch in 1966. Where list prices have risen, the industry says it's because once optional safety devices have been made standard.

SERVICES — Americans will demand more and pay more.

The rapid rise in charges may slacken a bit in 1966, but outlays will still be a major part of most family budgets. They will spend more for personal care and for medical attention. Medicare will relieve the burden after midyear for those over 65. But the national total of medical bills is expected to rise.

TAXES — A bleaker year in prospect.

Uncle Sam expects to collect more. Part of this will come from larger personal incomes taxed at the same rates as in 1965. Part will come from higher rates on workers and employers to support Social Security. Some fear that if the Treasury has to spend too much more, some other taxes may rise or new ones be levied. State and local governments are spending more, and collecting more revenues from old taxes. Many are talking of trying new ones. Most Americans will find that their total tax outlays in 1966 are higher.

ADD IT UP — Another bigger, more affluent and costlier year ahead.

Businessmen are confident they'll sell more to more consumers — even though they worry lest rising production costs trim profit margins as sales rise. Consumers seem just as confident they'll be making more and willing to spend more — and will be demanding more, both in goods and services, and in quality.

Ohio Man Arraigned On Robbery Charges

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frank Jack Batterson Jr., 26, of Lakewood was arraigned Friday before U. S. Commissioner Clifford E. Bruce on a charge of unarmed robbery.

Batterson, arrested Thursday night, is accused of taking $800 in a daylight holdup of a Broadview Savings & Loan Co. branch in Lakewood Thursday.

Batterson, whose bond was set at $25,000, is to appear for a preliminary hearing Jan. 10.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother George M. Mullen, Jr., who was killed 22 years ago Jan. 2, 1944. Today reveals the memories of our dear one gone to rest and the ones who think of him today are the ones who loved him best. The flowers we placed upon his grave my wither and decay, but the love for him who lies beneath will never fade away. Relentless death among us comes and bitter grief imparts, it took our love one from our home but never from our hearts. Sadly missed by his Father and Brother

Junior Editors Quiz on EGYPTIAN DRAWINGS

QUESTION: Why did the Egyptians paint heads in profile, but with eyes looking straight at you?

ANSWER: There have been several explanations given. One is suggested in our picture. The history of Egypt goes very far back—into the Prehistoric Period. These ancient artists were probably trying to draw people to look as much like people as they were able to do. Study upper left. Doesn't an eye look more like an eye if seen from the front? A nose, however, is very difficult to draw front view—the Egyptians didn't know how to use realistic shadows, as was discovered later. Nose, mouth and chin looked most like themselves when drawn from the side, so the Egyptians drew them this way. In the same way, shoulders were drawn from the front, where they look wider. But since legs and feet look more natural drawn from the side, the Egyptians used this view in drawing them. Put these most favorable views of parts of the figure together and you get the Egyptian look in figure drawing. There is, of course, more to the Egyptian style than this. Egyptian art was meant to emphasize the belief in life after death, and these figures with their curious flatness look as if they would last forever. This is just what the patrons of the Egyptian artists wanted them to express.

FOR YOU TO DO: Draw two profiles, with noses, lips and chins as in our picture. In one, put an Egyptian eye, looking as if seen from the front. Then look at a real person's profile and see how different the real eye, in profile, is from the Egyptian one. Draw this second eye in the second profile as close to its real appearance as you can.

When Term Expires

Scranton Faces Hazy Future In Political Sense

By JOHN L. TAYLOR

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — With little more than a year remaining in his administration, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania faces an uncertain political future.

One of the bright stars on the Republican horizon and a possible contender for the GOP presidential nomination in 1968, Scranton will vacate his office at a most awkward time.

When he turns over the reins of state government to his successor in January 1967, the Republican National Convention will be almost a year and a half away.

THE AMERICAN voter has a fuzzy memory when it comes to ex-governors. Most citizens, for example, know that George Romney is the present governor of Michigan, but how many can recall whom he succeeded in 1963?

So the politicians say Scranton must be kept in the limelight after he leaves office if he has any desire for the White House in 1968.

Scranton, 48, cannot succeed himself under Pennsylvania's constitution. Neither of Pennsylvania's two Senate seats are up for election next year. He could run for his old congressional seat, but it currently is held by one of his own political proteges.

A report went around in late 1965 that Scranton would be offered the post of chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh when he leaves office. Scranton said it was news to him. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was president of Columbia University between the time he headed NATO forces in Europe and entered the White House in 1953.

SCRANTON maintains that he doesn't know what he will do and indicates further that he is not even concerned at this point.

"Nobody believes this," he told a group of Pennsylvania journalism students earlier this month, "but I am not even going to consider what to do after January 1967, until the time comes.

"If I start worrying about my next job, I will not do the present job as well as I should."

Asked his preference for a Republican standard bearer in 1968, he replied:

"I don't have any preference for the GOP candidate for president. It is very important that we win in the 1966 elections."

Scranton, like most successful politicians, takes one election at a time. Right now he is concerned about the party picking a gubernatorial candidate next year who can win. If the Republicans win big in Pennsylvania in 1966, Scranton undoubtedly can claim part of the credit. Of course, the reverse is true if the Democrats sweep into office.

Looking back at Scranton's record for his first three years in office, one may analyze it according to which side of the political fence he is standing. But it may be said generally that Scranton accomplished most of what he set out to do.

THE REPUBLICAN platform in 1962 cited unemployment as "the most serious problem confronting the people of Pennsylvania. . . . "At that time 430,000 were out of work and the jobless rate stood at 9.4 per cent. Today 162,000 are unemployed with the rate down to 3.5 per cent.

Pennsylvania Democrats contend that unemployment has fallen nationwide over the past three years, thanks to the Kennedy - Johnson Administration in Washington and no thanks to Scranton.

Scranton also can point to accomplishments of his administration in the area of industrial development.

"The tremendous selling job being done by our Department of Commerce has helped spur industrial growth," the administration said in a progress report last October. "Last year there were 811 new plant locations or expansions in the state — an all-time high.

"The badly needed reform of our Unemployment Compensation Law, accomplished in spite of the near riot staged by House Democrats last year, has helped create new jobs."

Although the law increased benefits, it tightened eligibility requirements. The Democrats, along with organized labor, fought the proposal bitterly, but to no avail.

"But there is an over-all reason why Pennsylvania is on the move. Under the Scranton administration, Pennsylvania is becoming a modern state, unified in purpose, with her eyes on the future, coming to grips with modern needs in the fields of education, of human services, of conservation of our precious natural resources."

Scranton was blessed in 1963 and 1964 with Republican legislatures. He utilized these majorities in winning enactment of the bulk of his program, as outlined in the GOP platform. The state sales tax was raised from 4 to 5 per cent to provide more money for education, teachers salaries were raised, a community college system was established, a student scholarship bill was devised, and stronger conservation controls were placed on the strip mining industry.

One of the reasons Scranton gave for making his belated challenge to Barry Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination last year was his fear that Goldwater's nomination would result in Democrats capturing one or both houses of the legislature in 1964. His fears were confirmed. Democrats gained control of the House, and many of Scranton's bills fell by the wayside in the 1965 session. Some were passed, however.

The governor won enactment of legislation allowing private and parochial school children to ride public school buses along established routes, strengthening laws against pollution of streams, and a measure to expand the state's industrial development program.

Bogged down were a bill to add 300 men to the state police force and several proposed constitutional amendments, including one that would allow the governor to serve two successive terms. Scranton would not be affected by the gubernatorial tenure bill.

EARLIER IN the year, House Democrats added welfare appropriations onto Scranton's proposed budget for fiscal 1965-66, but the governor, using his power of item veto, trimmed $19 million from the billion dollar money bill before signing it.

In 1966, Scranton will have another session of a politically divided legislature with which to contend. The session will be devoted strictly to fiscal matters.

In the meantime, Scranton will be working with other Republican leaders to select a gubernatorial candidate, and, of course, Democrats will be doing the same.

Scranton will have a definite say in choosing the GOP candidate and a stake in the outcome.

If a Republican is returned to the executive mansion, political observers will see it as a show of support for Scranton and his policies. If a Democrat wins, however, Scranton's political star could be on the wane.

Of all the dishes experimented on by American housewives from new recipes, more than 40 per cent are in the dessert category.

$317,191 Due School Areas

School districts in Columbiana County will share $317,191 in the December distribution of school foundation funds totaling over $24 million, State Auditor Roger Cloud announced today at Columbus.

East Liverpool will receive the largest amount, $69,412, in the funds earmarked for city school districts. Others are: Wellsville, $28,293; East Palestine, $26,487, and Salem, $29,971.

The distribution to exempted village districts includes: Columbiana, $18,779; Leetonia, $16,813, and Lisbon, $21,518.

In addition, a lump sum of $85,918 will be distributed to the so-called local districts in the county. They are Beaver Local, United Local, Southern Local and Fairfield - Waterford.

Cloud said the disbursement brings to $258,306,284 the amount distributed to the schools throughout Ohio in 1965.

The December payment included over $8 million to the 159 city school districts, more than $8 million for the 508 local districts, $1 million for the 61 exempted village districts, more than $5 million for the teacher's retirement system and $979,000 for the school employes' retirement system.

Studies Ordered In Proposed Span Over Lake Erie

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"In depth" studies of his proposal for a highway bridge across Lake Erie have been ordered by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The governor said first reports on the feasibility of the Ohio-Canada link were favorable. Preliminary studies, he said, showed costs would range from $250 million to as much as $600 million.

Costs depend on length, type of structure, and the points to be connected.

"Cost-wise, what might be considered excessive on the surface might well prove to be a bargain for future generations," Rhodes said.

But the governor said no one, including, apparently, himself, should "pre-judge the proposed bridge across Lake Erie until the consulting engineers have an opportunity to consider all facets of such a facility and, in turn, make their recommendations."

The preliminary studies were made by the highway and development departments. Rhodes said he asked Highway Director P. E. Masheter to hire consulting engineers for both the new economic and engineering studies.

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin will leave Sunday for the Indian-Pakistan talks at Tashkent in Soviet central Asia, the Soviet press department announced today.

This will get the premier there in time to greet Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India and President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan, who are arriving Monday. The meetings will start the next day.

The United States accounts for about 7 per cent of the world population.

Accord Reached By Pennzoil Co., United Gas Corp.

NEW YORK (AP) — Accord between United Gas Corp. and Pennzoil Co. apparently was reached Friday when it was announced the companies would exchange directors.

Pennzoil acquired a controlling interest in United Gas which has 10 times Pennzoil's assets, Dec. 21. Ed Parkes, United Gas president, said at that time his firm might turn to the Securities and Exchange Commission to "protect" its stockholders against Pennzoil.

Parkes now says mutually satisfactory discussions of corporate aims and policies have led to accord.

He said Pennzoil directors will be invited to serve on the United Gas board. In turn, he and the United Gas executive vice president will serve on the Pennzoil board.

United Gas, a fully integrated natural gas system based at Shreveport, La., will become a Pennzoil subsidiary.

Hancock Schedules Pre-School Clinics

The Hancock County Board of Health has announced that preschool immunization clinics will be conducted next week from 10 a.m. until noon for whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus, smallpox and polio as follows: Tuesday—American Legion Hall, Newell; Wednesday — City Building, Chester, and Thursday — Community Center, Weirton.

The clinics also will be held at the New Cumberland Health Department each Saturday in January, with the exception of New Year's Day, from 9 a.m. until noon.

Additional Window Service Will Begin At Post Office

Additional window service on Wednesday afternoons at the main post office was announced today by Postmaster Samuel W. Brown. The change is effective next Wednesday.

The additional hours mean the stamp windows and money order window will be open until 4 p.m. on Wednesdays. Previously, the windows had closed at noon.

The windows will continue to close at 5 p.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays and the present Saturday schedule will remain in effect, with windows closing at noon.

Station A in the East End will continue to close at noon on Wednesday, Brown said.

Meanwhile, Brown said he has been advised that the disability retirement of John W. Borsos, carrier on Rural Route 1, has been approved and became effective Thursday.

Beros has been the carrier on the route serving Glenmoor, Y. & O. Rd. and Shadyside Ave. sections for seven years.

His retirement has caused some complications, the postmaster said, since the substitute on the route, George R. McHenry, will report Monday for military service.

Milton Fowler has been named to take McHenry's place, Brown said, urging residents served by the R.D. 1 route to make certain their names are on their mail boxes and to have their mail addressed by number, street, and road so that there will be no delays.

If the examination is required to fill Borsos' post, the announcement will be made in Washington.

Scranton Faces Hazy Future In Political Sense

By JOHN L. TAYLOR

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — With little more than a year remaining in his administration, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania faces an uncertain political future.

One of the bright stars on the Republican horizon and a possible contender for the GOP presidential nomination in 1968, Scranton will vacate his office at a most awkward time.

When he turns over the reins of state government to his successor in January 1967, the Republican National Convention will be almost a year and a half away.

THE AMERICAN voter has a fuzzy memory when it comes to ex-governors. Most citizens, for example, know that George Romney is the present governor of Michigan, but how many can recall whom he succeeded in 1963?

So the politicians say Scranton must be kept in the limelight after he leaves office if he has any desire for the White House in 1968.

Scranton, 48, cannot succeed himself under Pennsylvania's constitution. Neither of Pennsylvania's two Senate seats are up for election next year. He could run for his old congressional seat, but it currently is held by one of his own political proteges.

A report went around in late 1965 that Scranton would be offered the post of chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh when he leaves office. Scranton said it was news to him. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was president of Columbia University between the time he headed NATO forces in Europe and entered the White House in 1953.

SCRANTON maintains that he doesn't know what he will do and indicates further that he is not even concerned at this point.

"Nobody believes this," he told a group of Pennsylvania journalism students earlier this month, "but I am not even going to consider what to do after January 1967, until the time comes.

"If I start worrying about my next job, I will not do the present job as well as I should."

Asked his preference for a Republican standard bearer in 1968, he replied:

"I don't have any preference for the GOP candidate for president. It is very important that we win in the 1966 elections."

Scranton, like most successful politicians, takes one election at a time. Right now he is concerned about the party picking a gubernatorial candidate next year who can win. If the Republicans win big in Pennsylvania in 1966, Scranton undoubtedly can claim part of the credit. Of course, the reverse is true if the Democrats sweep into office.

Looking back at Scranton's record for his first three years in office, one may analyze it according to which side of the political fence he is standing. But it may be said generally that Scranton accomplished most of what he set out to do.

THE REPUBLICAN platform in 1962 cited unemployment as "the most serious problem confronting the people of Pennsylvania. . . . "At that time 430,000 were out of work and the jobless rate stood at 9.4 per cent. Today 162,000 are unemployed with the rate down to 3.5 per cent.

Pennsylvania Democrats contend that unemployment has fallen nationwide over the past three years, thanks to the Kennedy - Johnson Administration in Washington and no thanks to Scranton.

Scranton also can point to accomplishments of his administration in the area of industrial development.

"The tremendous selling job being done by our Department of Commerce has helped spur industrial growth," the administration said in a progress report last October. "Last year there were 811 new plant locations or expansions in the state — an all-time high.

"The badly needed reform of our Unemployment Compensation Law, accomplished in spite of the near riot staged by House Democrats last year, has helped create new jobs."

Although the law increased benefits, it tightened eligibility requirements. The Democrats, along with organized labor, fought the proposal bitterly, but to no avail.

"But there is an over-all reason why Pennsylvania is on the move. Under the Scranton administration, Pennsylvania is becoming a modern state, unified in purpose, with her eyes on the future, coming to grips with modern needs in the fields of education, of human services, of conservation of our precious natural resources."

Scranton was blessed in 1963 and 1964 with Republican legislatures. He utilized these majorities in winning enactment of the bulk of his program, as outlined in the GOP platform. The state sales tax was raised from 4 to 5 per cent to provide more money for education, teachers salaries were raised, a community college system was established, a student scholarship bill was devised, and stronger conservation controls were placed on the strip mining industry.

One of the reasons Scranton gave for making his belated challenge to Barry Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination last year was his fear that Goldwater's nomination would result in Democrats capturing one or both houses of the legislature in 1964. His fears were confirmed. Democrats gained control of the House, and many of Scranton's bills fell by the wayside in the 1965 session. Some were passed, however.

The governor won enactment of legislation allowing private and parochial school children to ride public school buses along established routes, strengthening laws against pollution of streams, and a measure to expand the state's industrial development program.

Bogged down were a bill to add 300 men to the state police force and several proposed constitutional amendments, including one that would allow the governor to serve two successive terms. Scranton would not be affected by the gubernatorial tenure bill.

EARLIER IN the year, House Democrats added welfare appropriations onto Scranton's proposed budget for fiscal 1965-66, but the governor, using his power of item veto, trimmed $19 million from the billion dollar money bill before signing it.

In 1966, Scranton will have another session of a politically divided legislature with which to contend. The session will be devoted strictly to fiscal matters.

In the meantime, Scranton will be working with other Republican leaders to select a gubernatorial candidate, and, of course, Democrats will be doing the same.

Scranton will have a definite say in choosing the GOP candidate and a stake in the outcome.

If a Republican is returned to the executive mansion, political observers will see it as a show of support for Scranton and his policies. If a Democrat wins, however, Scranton's political star could be on the wane.

$317,191 Due School Areas

School districts in Columbiana County will share $317,191 in the December distribution of school foundation funds totaling over $24 million, State Auditor Roger Cloud announced today at Columbus.

East Liverpool will receive the largest amount, $69,412, in the funds earmarked for city school districts. Others are: Wellsville, $28,293; East Palestine, $26,487, and Salem, $29,971.

The distribution to exempted village districts includes: Columbiana, $18,779; Leetonia, $16,813, and Lisbon, $21,518.

In addition, a lump sum of $85,918 will be distributed to the so-called local districts in the county. They are Beaver Local, United Local, Southern Local and Fairfield - Waterford.

Cloud said the disbursement brings to $258,306,284 the amount distributed to the schools throughout Ohio in 1965.

The December payment included over $8 million to the 159 city school districts, more than $8 million for the 508 local districts, $1 million for the 61 exempted village districts, more than $5 million for the teacher's retirement system and $979,000 for the school employes' retirement system.
